

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

TITLE I.

CANON I.—SEC. 2.

OF THE TESTIMONIALS TO BE GIVEN TO LAY DEPUTIES.

The certificates of the election of Lay Deputies shall be in the following form:

[Name of the Church, the place and date.]

This certifies that at a meeting of the congregation of this Church, for the purpose of electing Church Officers and Deputies to the Convention (or for the purpose of electing Deputies to the Convention, if the meeting be for that object alone), A. B., C. D., and E. F., being members of the congregation and communicants of the Church, were duly chosen to represent the parish in the Convention for the year ensuing. In testimony of which I have hereunto set my hand (or if the two Wardens subscribe, we have set our hands) the day and year above written.

N. B.—The signature of either the Rector or the Secretary of the Vestry is sufficient. If neither the Rector nor the Secretary signs, then the signatures of both Wardens are necessary. [A Clergyman who is simply a Minister-in-Charge, or Missionary, cannot sign.]

In the case of a congregation organized under Trustees, the certificate may be signed by two Trustees, in lieu of the Wardens.

The Lay Representation is limited to three Deputies, whose names should be carefully and legibly written.

This certificate is to "be transmitted to the Secretary of the Convention AT LEAST TEN DAYS BEFORE THE MEETING OF THE ANNUAL CONVENTION."

In order to secure this, the Secretary will forward a blank form to every Parish; and he earnestly asks the prompt attention of the Clergy.

In Article IV, Section 3, of the Constitution, it is provided that "the Deputies, with their alternates, shall be chosen by the Congregation from the male communicants thereof, and no Lay Deputy shall represent more than one Parish."

JOURNAL.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, CAMDEN,
TUESDAY, May 5th, 1903.

This being the time and place designated by the Constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New Jersey for the meeting of the Annual Convention of the said Church, the Bishop and a number of the Clergy and Laity assembled in St. Paul's Church, Camden; when, at 10:30 A. M., the Bishop began the Order for the Administration of the Holy Communion, in which he was assisted by the Deans of the two Convocations and the Rev. Mr. Rodrick, Rector of the parish.

The Convention Sermon was preached by the Rev. W. Strother Jones, D.D., Rector of St. Michael's Church, Trenton, his text being I Chronicles, XII, 32—"And of the children of Issachar, which were men that had understanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to do."

The Rector welcomed the Convention to the hospitalities of St. Paul's Church, and published the order of Convention.

After Divine Service the Bishop took the chair and called the Convention to order. Under the direction of the Right Reverend President, the Secretary called the names of the Clergy entitled to seats in the Convention. He also called the names of the Lay Deputies from parishes which had sent in certificates of election in accordance with the requirements of the Canon, and which, in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution, had not failed for two successive years to pay their Conventional assessments, and reported that there was present a Constitutional quorum (83 Clergy and 104 Lay Deputies). Whereupon the Bishop declared the Convention duly organized, and appointed Messrs. Warren R. Dix, John J. Reese, Harry A. Smith, James C. DeCou and Henry A. Neilson as the Committee on Certificates of Lay Deputies. The Committee subsequently reported as follows, and the report was adopted:

The Committee on Certificates of Lay Deputies report that they have received certificates from the following parishes, viz.: Grace, Elizabeth; Trinity, Swedesboro; St. Stephen's, Florence; Trinity, Vineland; Trinity, Red Bank; Ascension, Gloucester; and that the same are correct in form, and recommend that the delegates be admitted to membership in the Convention, except in the case of Trinity, Red Bank, whose delegates are not eligible under Article IV, Section 4, of the Constitution.

The names of Deputies from parishes reported favorably, were then called by the Secretary.

The election of a Secretary being in order, and but one candidate having been nominated, the Rev. James F. Olmsted was authorized to cast the ballot for the Rev. Herbert Stanley Smith, and the Bishop declared his election. The Secretary gave notice that he had appointed the Rev. Charles Fiske, B.D., to be his Assistant.

The Right Reverend President announced the following committees:

The Convention then took a recess.

CHAS. EWAN MERRITT,
JOHN N. CARPENDER,

J. B. DUMONT.

The Rev. Mr. Rodrick read the following:

The Committee on the Admission of New Parishes reports that verbal application has been made by "The Rector and Trustees of the Parish of St. Bernard," Barnardsville, for admission into union with the Convention.

It appears, from evidence satisfactory, that this parish has been duly and legally incorporated; but through an unfortunate complication, the papers have been mislaid, and have not been shown your Committee. Article V of the Constitution requires that there shall be produced to the Convention not only satisfactory evidence of the assent of the Bishop, on advice of Standing Committee, etc. (which we have), but also that three separate papers (Article V, Section 1, Sub-sections 2, 3, 4) shall be produced to the Convention.

As these papers have not been produced, the parish cannot be admitted without violating the Constitution, and the Committee therefore reports adversely upon the application.

Also, that application for admission to union with the Convention has been made by "The Church of St. John in the Wilderness," Gibbsboro.

This Church has been incorporated under the new State law, and has not taken a proper title. On page 45 of the Constitution and Canons the copy of the new State law reads: "The corporate title, which shall be in form as follows: 'The rector, wardens and vestrymen of Church in'"

As this Church has not been properly incorporated, it cannot, under our Constitution, Article V, Section 1, Sub-section 2, be admitted into union with the Convention, which requires that this Church shall have been incorporated "according to law." This has not been done, and the Committee is compelled to report adversely on the application.

R. A. RODRICK,
Chairman.

On motion of Mr. Parker it was

Resolved, That that portion of the Bishop's address relative to the change of name of the Church be made the special order of the day for to-morrow morning immediately after the elections shall have been held.

The resolution of Mr. Gales that the matter be given immediate consideration was not adopted.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Schuyler, it was made the order of the day at 11 o'clock to-morrow.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Baker,

Resolved, That the Secretary be directed to keep ten copies of the Journal of the Convention of each year on file, and be authorized after two years to dispose of any surplus numbers left on his hands, as he shall think best.

On motion it was resolved that a Special Committee be appointed to consider changing the form of the Journal and to report to-morrow. The Bishop appointed as this committee the Rev. Dr. W. Strother Jones, the Rev. Dr. Oberly and the Secretary.

On motion of Mr. Gales, the Rector of Trinity Church, Red Bank, was given permission to explain concerning the bond given by his parish to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund.

Moved by Mr. Parker that the matter of bond of Trinity Church, Red Bank, be referred to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund with power. Carried.

On motion, adjourned.

TUESDAY, May 5th, 8 P. M.

Evening Prayer was read by the Rev. Howard E. Thompson, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Freehold, and the Rev. Robert L. Stevens, Rector of Trinity Church, Vineland.

The reports of the Rural Deans and the Treasurers of Convocations were read.

See Appendix XI.

The Secretary read the following report:

I herewith submit my report as Special Agent for Diocesan Trustees for the year ending May, 1903.

The mortgage held by the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund on property of Robert Mendham, situated in Trenton, New Jersey, was foreclosed and the property sold by the sheriff June 25th, 1902.

I attended the sale and bid $5,000; there being no other bid, the property was struck off to me, and I had the title of the property made to John N. Carpenter, the Treasurer of said Fund.

I have advertised this property for sale and for rent continuously, looked after it weekly, have kept the snow cleaned from the pavement, but have been unable to sell or rent the same.

This property is assessed at $5,725, which sum, in my opinion, is excessive, and I have been before the Board of Assessors three times in hopes of having the taxes reduced.

The fire insurance has been increased from $2,500 to $6,000 on the Duncan Mackenzie property, from $1,000 to $2,000 on the James Hammond property, No. 231 Mercer street, Trenton, N. J., and from $1,000 each to $2,000 each on the Thomas W. Vare property, Nos. 2 and 4 Lambertson street, Trenton, N. J.

I have also notified Mr. James Hammond, Mr. Thos W. Vare and Mr. James Mendham to reduce the amount of the mortgages covering on the properties above mentioned by making partial payments on account of the same, and Mr. James Mendham has made a payment of $500 in compliance with the request; the others are unable to do so at present, and, while I do not approve of the investments, I would advise that we let them rest as they are for the present.

The owners of all of the properties upon which the Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund and the Widows and Orphans of Clergy Fund hold a mortgage have been notified of the expiration of the fire insurance policies held by said Trustees, and new policies have been received in each case, and at present every mortgage is fully protected against loss by fire.

I would also report that I have examined the tax records, and find the taxes for the year 1902 have been paid on all of the properties situated in Mercer county upon which the above-mentioned Trustees hold a mortgage, with the exception of the Joseph Mackenzie property.

I have notified him, and if he does not pay at once, I would advise that the Trustees take urgent steps in his case.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. B. YARD,

Special Agent for Diocesan Trustees.

The Bishop then read the following :

My Dear Bishop Scarborough:

I appreciate very highly the honor of having been Chancellor of the Diocese, through your nomination, for the past ten years, and if I could consult only my own wishes, I would be glad to continue to be of any possible service to the Diocese in that capacity. But I now have so many demands upon my time that I can no longer give the office the proper attention, and I do not feel that it is right for me to retain it, in view of the probability of my being compelled to neglect the duties entailed.

I, therefore, beg you to accept my resignation, which I tender with real regret.

Assuring you of my appreciation of your confidence, and with much respect, believe me,

Most faithfully yours,

B. F. HAYWOOD SHREVE.

On motion of Mr. Perkins, it was Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be tendered to B. F. Haywood Shreve, Esq., for his valuable services for several years as Chancellor of this Diocese.

The Bishop nominated Mr. Bayard Stockton to fill the vacancy created by Mr. Shreve's resignation. The Standing Committee subsequently reported their organization by the election of the Rev. Dr. Baker, President, and the Rev. C. M. Perkins, Secretary; also that they had confirmed the nomination of Mr. Stockton as Chancellor of the Diocese.

The Rev. Dr. Jones made the following report which, on his motion, was adopted :

The Committee appointed to consider changing the form of the Journal report the following resolution:

Resolved, That hereafter the following be published in the Journal, after the Committees, on page 6:

1. A Chronological List of the Clergy, with academic degrees and dates of admission into the Diocese.

A recess was then taken.

WEDNESDAY, May 6th, 3:30 P. M.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Glazebrook, the invitation of the Rev. Dr. Oberly, Rector of Christ Church, Elizabeth, to hold the next Convention in his parish was accepted, subject to the Bishop's appointment, and the Bishop so appointed.

Mr. Townsend reported as follows:

To the Convention of the Diocese of New Jersey:

Your Committee on the Mutual Insurance of Church Properties beg to report that during the year we have had a meeting with representatives from several parts of the Diocese with a view to organizing a company for mutual insurance under the existing laws.

We have secured the co-operation of a sufficient number of gentlemen willing to organize such a company.

The laws of the State, however, do not contemplate such a purely mutual or limited company as we would like to organize. In consequence, we have deemed it best not to form a company at the present time. We have recently been in conference and in communication with representatives of one of the old mutual companies in the State, a company already carrying risks on church properties in the Diocese, with the idea that perhaps through such a company, already with charter and at work, we might be able to effect the purpose of our plan, namely, to save to the Parishes a good portion of the premiums now paid to insurance companies, amounting to about $4,500 annually.

Your Committee would like to be continued, and if we come to any satisfactory results upon the line indicated, we will gladly notify the several Parishes of the Diocese.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWARD J. KNIGHT.

LEWIS PERRINE.

CHAS. TOWNSEND, Committee.

The report was accepted and the committee continued.

Mr. Parker offered the following:

Resolved, That the report made to the Convention by the Committee on Rules be referred to the Committee on Rules for report at the next Annual Convention.

The Rev. Dr. Baker offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That so much of the Bishop's address as refers to a change of name of the Diocese be referred to a committee of five to report to the next Convention.

The Bishop appointed as such committee, the Rev. Dr. Baker, the Rev. Dr. Jones, Mr. Jas. Parker, Dr. J. H. Pugh, Mr. Bayard Stockton.

Mr. Carpenter reported on behalf of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund that they were unable to take action in regard to Trinity, Red Bank, and, on motion, were excused from further consideration of the matter.

Mr. Gales offered the following:

Resolved, That the Convention allow the bond of Trinity, Red Bank, to be reduced to $900.

The following amendment offered by Mr. Merritt was adopted as a substitute for the above:

Resolved, That the question of the reduction of the amount of the bond of Trinity, Red Bank, be referred to the Chancellor of the Diocese, to report as to the powers of this Convention or of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund in regard to the same.

Rev. Mr. Knight, a deputy to the Missionary Council, reported that he had attended the Council held in Philadelphia in October last. He said that the meeting was full of enthusiasm, missionary facts and interest. He further stated that he had been appointed on a committee to report some plan to the next Council whereby the missionary enthusiasm there centered may be diffused throughout the Church. He will be glad of any suggestions which may help in making this report.

At the request of the Bishop, the Rev. Mr. Stoddard presented suggestions for a Canon on Organized Missions.

See Appendix XIV.

On motion, it was

Resolved, That the suggestion for a Canon on Organized Missions, herewith presented, be referred to a special committee, which shall take into consideration the missionary organizations of the Diocese, and report to the next Annual Convention what action, if any, may in their judgment be necessary.

The Bishop appointed as such committee: The Rev. Mr. Stoddard, chairman, and the Executive Committees of the two Convocations.

On motion of the Rev. T. M. Reilly, it was Resolved, That all Churches and Missions in this Diocese, though not at present in connection with the Convention thereof, be assessed by the Treasurer for the Bishop's salary and Diocesan expenses according to the amount they now pay for holding services in their respective Churches or Missions.

On motion of Mr. Warren R. Dix, it was Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be tendered the Rector, Wardens and Vestry of St. Paul's Church, Camden, and the parishioners of St. Paul's and St. John's Churches and all others who have participated, for the cordial and courteous entertainment received by the Convention.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Rodman, it was Resolved, That 1,200 copies of the Journal be published and distributed in accordance with the rule adopted by the Convention.

On motion of Mr. Parker, it was Resolved, That the Treasurer of the Convention be authorized to pay the usual amount to the sexton of St. Paul's Church for his services during the session of the Convention.

The minutes of the day's session were read and approved.

The Bishop addressed a few heartfelt words to the members of the Convention, said the closing Prayers, gave the Benediction, and declared the Convention adjourned sine die.

Twenty-Ninth Annual Address of the Rt.
Rev. John Scarborough, D.D.,
Bishop of the Diocese.

DEAR BRETHREN OF THE CLERGY AND LAITY:

Since the day when a little company of churchmen met in New Brunswick to plan for building anew on the old foundations, one hundred and eighteen Conventions of New Jersey have been held. And we are met here to-day to add another to the number. It was a day of small things. The work of Keith and Talbot had been, seemingly, undone by the ravages of war. But the vine of God's own planting could not perish wholly. In the past year two of our most venerable parishes have celebrated two hundred years of continuous life, and we have been led to look back through the intervening period to the feeble beginnings of two centuries ago and compare that with our present strength and growth.

Christ Church, Shrewsbury, where Keith and Talbot both ministered as the first missionaries of "The Venerable Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts," gathered a great company of present and former parishioners and friends on the tenth day of September last, to join in thanksgivings and recount in the ears of a new generation the noble works of those who planted the first seeds in virgin soil two centuries ago, as well as of those who labored through many discouragements in the intervening years down to the present day. Many of the neighboring clergy came with their vested choirs and helped to make the memorial service both grand and inspiring.

On the seventh day of last October, Trinity Church, Swedesboro, celebrated its bi-centennial with great gladness. On the previous Sunday the Rev. Mr. Burk, of St. Peter's, Clarksboro, gave a most interesting historic narrative of the origin of Swedish missions in this country, and of the men who planted them along the Delaware river. As you doubtless know, Trinity Church, Swedesboro, was under the care of Swedish missionaries during the entire period of our Colonial history. Up to the time of the change in the civil government the records of the parish are in the Swedish tongue. George III gave a charter for the founding of an English Church at Raccoon in 1768, so that the parish has had a double ecclesiastical parentage.

The Swedish Vice-Consul of Philadelphia honored the occasion by his presence and made a most excellent address. He also sent to his sovereign, King Oscar, a full account of the day and its doings, which was graciously acknowledged by his Majesty in due time.

During the present month, St. Mary's, Burlington, will celebrate the completion of two hundred years of corporate life, and in the coming autumn St. John's, Elizabeth, will do likewise. Christ Church, South Amboy, has kept its golden jubilee, and Christ Church, Elizabeth, marked the passing of half a century by a series of services during the Octave of Easter, and by the dedication of a commodious parish hall, just completed, and large enough to accommodate the Sunday School or social gatherings of the entire parish. It is the fulfillment of a long cherished wish on the part of pastor and people, and the meeting of a real need. Christ Church is not alone in the march of improvement. All the parishes in the city of Elizabeth show the stirrings of a new life. St. John's has greatly increased the accommodation for its large Sunday School, and St. Andrew's Chapel, nearly or quite doubled in size, is awaiting dedication and a formal opening at an early day. The vestry of Trinity Church own the land and have a goodly sum of money in hand for a parish house and rectory and the enlargement of the church building. Grace Church will soon have the largest and most costly Guild House in the Diocese, built as a memorial by the wife of the Bishop of New York, and thoroughly equipped with all modern appliances. A proper church edifice is the next great need of this thriving parish to be supplied. St. Augustine's, Atlantic City, has been enlarged, nearly doubling its seating capacity. St. Augustine's, Camden, another congregation of colored folk, has paid every dollar of indebtedness and is awaiting consecration. St. John's, Salem, has a beautiful memorial cloister of solid stone, connecting the church and the chapel. Trinity, Vineland, has a memorial stone tower and a Chime of Meneely's bells hung in it. Ascension, Gloucester, has made large improvements outside and inside of the church edifice, and has nearly extinguished its large indebtedness. St. John's, Camden, has replaced its old and well-worn organ with a new instrument, paid for and dedicated. The Easter offering enabled Christ Church, Riverton, to make the final payment on the debt of the parish house. St. Stephen's, Beverly, is also free from debt. Much to my regret, the Rev. Mr. Betticher, after eleven years of successful labor, has resigned the rectorship. St. Mary's, Keyport, has made extensive improvements, as has also St. Paul's, Rahway. But two new churches have been built during the year—St. Uriel's, at Sea Girt, and St. Andrew's, in Trenton.

Mrs. J. H. Oglesby, who lives the entire year at Sea Girt, has long had services twice in the month in her parlor, with a good attendance even in the winter time, but the building of a church has been in her mind for years. At last her wish is accomplished. The land company donated two lots, which are deeded to the trustees of church property. A substantial church has been erected and is now in use. Single-handed, this devoted woman, like her who broke the box of precious ointment on the Lord's body, "has done what she could," and done it well. She has personally assumed the payment of the entire cost of building, so that there is no lien or debt against the property, and no obstacle in the way of consecration. The Associate Mission has charge of the services, and this is one more proof of its value to that portion of the Diocese where its influence is felt most.

St. Andrew's, the eighth church building in the city of Trenton, is an off-shoot from Grace Church, and is well located in a growing suburb of the city. The land was a gift from an earnest church woman. A small remaining indebtedness defers the consecration. I have not counted the enlargement of Christ Church, Trenton, as a new venture because part of it is still the old material of the former church. The front and chancel are changed very little, but the aisles are part of a permanent stone church, to be completed as the means will warrant. The seating capacity has been doubled, while the large basement has ample accommodation for the Sunday School, choir and robing rooms. St. Andrew's, Lambertville, has been specially favored with generous gifts from friends of the late rector, the Rev. Elvin K. Smith, to build a memorial house for the parish where his ministry closed. The last conscious act of the late Dean Hoffman was a few words written just before his death in the railway car, directing that $4,000 be given from his estate toward the memorial of his life-long friend and classmate. This sum, added to previous gifts, has enabled the vestry to purchase a valuable property adjoining the church which, beside giving ample room for a fitting memorial to be built, will bring a good yearly rental to the parish. There are many other gifts for the beautifying of the House of God that I might mention with approval and gratitude, and there are in many places prospective plans for growth and enlargement, which are signs of expanding life in the church.

The last Convention will be memorable in the annals of the Diocese for the large gift of Mr. Augustus A. DeVoe to the trustees of the Missionary Fund for the benefit of the Convocation of New Brunswick, of which he is the Treasurer. The income of this fund is more than $500 a year, and it is the earnest wish of the donor that it may be used for aggressive work, and not to relieve the parishes from the duty and responsibility of generous giving. I do not recall more than two or three instances during my Episcopate where any one has bestowed a large gift to any of the various Funds of the Diocese during life. I earnestly hope, therefore, that this may mark the dawning of a new day, and that others, blest with the ability to give, will copy so good an example and see with their own eyes the results of their good deeds.

The last Convention did another thing for which I am personally very grateful. It authorized a committee to purchase additional land for the Bishop's house from the executors of the late Samuel K. Wilson's estate. The committee consisted of the three Trustees, charged with the care of the property, and two Lay Deputies from Trinity, Princeton. The land has been purchased and paid for without any cost to the Diocese, except for the fencing. It is deeded to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, who hold title to the house and land originally given. The value of the property is greatly increased by this addition. The boundary line is removed twenty-five feet from the house, so that no possible harm can come from any building that may be erected on adjoining land. I am sure the church in this Diocese may take just pride to itself for the generous provision made for the comfort of its Bishop and his family.

The Associate Mission House in Trenton has been deeded to the Trustees of Church Property, with the single condition attached that if for any reason it may not be used or needed for its present purpose, the Trustees may sell it and give the proceeds of sale to the Trustees of the Missionary Fund for work in that portion of the Diocese now designated as "The Convocation of New Brunswick." The property is worth at least $12,000, and is free from taxes. No one can foretell what changes may come in the future, and therefore it seemed wise to make provision for a possible contingency, though I have no reason for distrusting the present method of carrying on mission work. In passing, let me call your attention anew to the growing importance of the Committee on Church Property. They have large trusts in their keeping, which are growing larger with every passing year, and none but those familiar with the details of their labor can have any idea of the debt this Diocese owes for services that are freely given. Not to this committee alone, but to all who are charged with the care of our material interests, we owe most grateful thanks for the labor bestowed. Sometimes the younger members of Convention wonder that there is not more frequent change or rotation in office. The same names appear in the Journal year after year with unvarying regularity. The reason is not hard to find. Where men are found who are competent and willing to hold places of trust, the Convention is unwilling to try experiments by making changes. If the younger men are patient, they will full soon be called to fill vacancies, and be promoted to the front ranks. The church at large, through its Mission Board, is making a brave and determined effort, not only to carry on the mission work of the church, but to extend it at home and abroad. The plan adopted by the General Convention to apportion a definite sum to each Diocese, and the Diocese to each parish, seems to me both fair and just. Doubtless there are inequalities that can only be discovered and corrected by experience. I should be sorry to think this Diocese will not bear cheerfully its share of the common burden. Last year it fell far short of the expectations of the church, and from present indications I very much fear partial failure this year again. Definite and specific information is given to every rector monthly as to how his parish stands. Some of our parishes have already contributed more than their quota, but a good many—and that not among the weak or small parishes only, but among the oldest and strongest—are making little or no effort. I am very anxious that New Jersey should stand well before the church, and I beg that every effort may be made to save the Diocese from the shame of falling behind. You may blame the rainy Sundays for the small offerings, and I fear the Treasury of the Board has suffered great loss on that account, but the real cause is our miserable lack of system in giving. Our work as teachers will only be half done while we rely on haphazard giving and fail to reach the individual heart and conscience. If each one gave as God hath prospered him, whether hindered by the weather or any other cause from his attendance on divine service, the Lord's treasury would not be robbed, but a certain tithe could be counted on as an honest debt and promptly paid.

Our Diocese is the poorer for the death of the Rev. Evelyn Bartow, in Utica, New York, on October 17th last. He was a most faithful Priest, and most reluctantly gave up the active work of the ministry because of failing health. The whole church has felt a deep sense of loss in the death of England's great Archbishop. He was the man for the times, of sterling worth, and world-wide influence. I predict that his successor will prove himself not unworthy of the high office and dignity to which he has been appointed. I owe him much for many acts of courtesy and friendship. The doors of Lambeth Palace will be open wide to visitors from the American Church, and a hospitable welcome extended to them as in the past.

Bishop Whittle, of Virginia, waited long and in great weakness of body for his call hence. He was a man of strong and positive convictions, and as brave as he was true. He held the love and confidence of his Brother Bishops in a very large degree.

Bishop Barnwell, of Alabama, after a very brief Episcopate, was called from his earthly labors. I knew him in his college days, though he was many years my junior, and he seemed destined to a bright career from his youth up. His sun went down while it was yet day.

Bishop Hugh Miller Thompson, one of the most brilliant men of his day, and a profound scholar, has left an enduring impress on the life of the church. His writings are widely read and of permanent value. Like many a genius he had strongly marked characteristics, but he was, above all things, a manly man and valiant for the truth.

After this address was written, tidings of the death of the Bishop of Quincy, the Rt. Rev. Frederick William Taylor, came as a great shock. He had been consecrated less than two years, and his work seemed only well begun. Thus in little more than a year and a half Quincy has lost two Bishops by death, and they were both men of mark in the church.

The Rev. Eugene Augustus Hoffman, Dean of the General Theological Seminary, though he belonged to the whole church, was so intimately associated with New Jersey during the early years of his ministry, that I am sure I may venture to count him among our losses for the past year. He held the first mission service in Millville. He labored as a missionary in Grace, Elizabethport, and Trinity, Woodbridge. He founded Christ Church, Elizabeth, and was its first rector. St. Mary's, Burlington, is witness to his great power as an organizer and wise master-builder. His last work was his greatest, and the building-up of the General Seminary will be his enduring monument.

Andrew Sinnickson, of St. John's, Salem; Maurice Browning, of St. Paul's, Camden; George C. T. Seaman, of St. John's, Elizabeth. Wardens of their respective parishes, and John Rowland Morewood, of Christ Church, Elizabeth, for many successive years a member of the Convention of this Diocese, have all passed over to the majority and rest from their labors.

The service for the consecration of a church has been said but once during the year. On the 20th of June the Church of Our Saviour at Cheesequake was set apart in solemn manner. I am glad to say that this pretty country church, far removed from the great avenues of travel, and seemingly isolated, is fulfilling its mission to that scattered community and proving the wisdom of the Associate Mission in making the venture. It is the best answer to those who either think or say that our church is for the city and the rich.

On June 12th, after confirmation and Holy Communion in the church, I consecrated the ground set apart for a church-yard at Dorothy. This little church, built among the pines of South Jersey, is proving itself a real blessing to the whole region round about. The people are poor, but very earnest.

The office of institution has been said twice during the year. The R^{ev}. Charles Fiske was chosen rector of St. John's Church, Somerville, in succession to the Rev. Harrison B. Wright, and was instituted September 21st. The Rev. Edward Vicars Stevenson, rector-elect of Grace Church, Plainfield, was instituted December 14th. The Rev. Dr. Peters, whose curate he had been in St. Michael's, New York City, preached a most admirable sermon on the occasion. The Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, who had served the parish as rector for more than thirty-years, and had seen it grow from small proportions to its present strength, was glad to lay the burden on younger shoulders and become rector emeritus. I cannot help adding here a word of hearty commendation for the vestry of Grace Church in making generous provision for the support of the retiring rector, during the remainder of his life. Too often the faithful priest, after long years of service, when his work is done, is left to cold charity and heartlessly thrown off. Hence the great pleasure with which I here record the action of this noble parish—setting an example which I hope may become a precedent in the Diocese and in the entire church. In this Diocese no aged servant of God has knowingly been allowed to suffer for lack of bread. Since my day our fund for the support of the aged and infirm has thus far sufficed for our needs. The needy among the widows and the children of clergymen have not fared so well because the number is large, and the fund is lamentably small. I am glad now and again to supplement what the Diocese can do from funds that come into my hands as gifts from the faithful or from legacies invested. The Advent offering of the Sunday School children, which has now become an established custom, enables me to help struggling missions in their early efforts, or in freeing them from the burden of debt. A few of the parishes still observe the standing resolution, printed on the inside cover of the Journal.

Perhaps the most important question to come before this Convention is the expression of its judgment as to the propriety of changing or correcting the present legal name of the church by which it has been designated since Colonial days.

On the second day of the General Convention of 1901, the Bishop of Milwaukee, on behalf of himself and his Convention, presented a memorial, praying for a change. As very few of the clergy and laity possess the Journal of the General Convention, I venture to quote a portion of that very able paper, as it states clearly the object sought to be obtained and the reasons for it. It declares that "the right appreciation and estimation of this church, as the National branch having jurisdiction in this country—of the historic Catholic Church of the ages—founded by our Lord Jesus Christ Himself, is sadly perverted and often entirely prevented by the local title, which during the years of our National existence has been borne by this church."

"English speaking Christians fail to recognize in a body termed the Protestant Episcopal Church any mark of unity between that name and the familiar title of the historic Church of England—whether in that land or in the British Colonies—or with the name of the ancient Church of Ireland."

"Christians from non-English speaking lands similarly fail to perceive in the said Protestant Episcopal Church, as it is popularly represented and described by its name, any other organization than that of a sect, sprung up within the last few centuries and formed as a voluntary association of men and women for religious purposes, and thus having no claim on their allegiance."

“Christians of other ancient and Catholic communions, such as those dominated by the authority of the See of Rome, as well as those in communion with the Orthodox Eastern Church and the several old Catholic Bishops, fail to perceive in the said Protestant Episcopal Church, as represented by its name, a body equally ancient with their own communions, having and maintaining an unbroken Episcopal succession, through the Apostles, from our Lord Himself.”

“Christians of our own body who, unfortunately, are not well instructed and informed in the history, doctrine and position of the church, misled by the same modern title, frequently fail to appreciate that this church is organically a portion of the Holy Catholic Church and that they are themselves, by virtue of their baptism, members of that church, thus by word and deed seriously misrepresenting this church as though it were a modern sect, having no greater claim on the allegiance of Christian people than that of one out of many organizations humanly devised for religious purposes, to the great hindering and belittling of this church.”

These are the main grounds on which the petitioners base their prayer for relief, and ask that some other title may be substituted that will state more definitely and clearly the relation and connection between this church and the historic Catholic Church of the ages. Various names are suggested which, for the most part, have been made familiar to you in the various publications of the day, and I need not repeat them. Moved by this appeal, the Committee on Memorials made their report on the seventh day of the Convention, recommending “that a joint committee be appointed, consisting of five Bishops, five Presbyters and five laymen, to take the whole subject of a change of name of this church into consideration, to ascertain as far as possible the mind of church people in general concerning it, and to make report to the next General Convention, with such suggestions as may commend themselves to their judgment."

The House of Deputies concurred in this action, and the committee of fifteen was duly appointed. Their first meeting was held in the city of Philadelphia in October last, all the members being present. You will notice that the committee are charged with the duty, not of stating their own personal convictions or conclusions, but with ascertaining as far as possible the mind of church people in general with reference to this very important question. As the best method of doing this the committee adopted the following resolution by a unanimous vote:

Resolved, That the Secretary be directed to communicate to the Secretary of each Diocese and Missionary District a copy of the resolution under which this committee is acting coupled with the statement that in pursuance of the direction contained in said resolution, "to endeavor to ascertain as far as possible the mind of church people in general concerning the subject of a proposed change of name," the committee before making any recommendation to the General Convention asks that "at the next meeting of the Convention or Convocation of each Diocese or Missionary District, said Convention or Convocation be requested to inform this committee whether it does or does not desire that the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America shall be changed at this time, and if it does so desire, what name it wishes substituted therefor."

The clerical and lay vote, taken separately, is to be sent in prior to October 1st, 1903. If the vote is in favor of a change of name, then the further question must be considered as to what substitute is preferred. If the vote is negative, further consideration will not be necessary. As I am honored with a place on the committee, I feel that any discussion as to the merits of the question would not be in good taste. I have laid the matter before you as clearly as I could, and all I ask is calm, intelligent consideration on broad grounds. It is in no sense a party question, I am glad to believe. If it ever was such it has long since passed beyond that stage. I could only add a word of caution that in correcting what many think historically a mistake, we should be careful not to alienate earnest souls, nor arrogate to ourselves more than we are justly entitled to claim. I clearly see the difficulty of finding a designation that will neither compromise our Catholic inheritance nor belittle our position as evermore protesting against errors in life and doctrine, on the one hand or on the other. I hope every member of the Convention will cast his vote in accordance with his convictions of duty and in the fear of God, thus helping to determine what the mind of the church is, and so helping to settle this vexed question, that our thoughts may be turned to the larger consideration of the church's mission to a sinful and perishing world, and the salvation of mankind everywhere.

While we are considering the question of correcting or changing the name of the church at large, might we not at least ask ourselves whether the time has come to correct the name of our own Diocese? We now bear the name of the entire State of New Jersey, when in fact less than half the population resides within our borders. It is a singular fact that in nearly all the Dioceses that have been divided, one portion retains the name of the whole. The Diocese of Pennsylvania, for instance, contains only five counties of that great commonwealth. Florida, North Carolina, Virginia, Massachusetts, Ohio and others beside our own Diocese bear geographical names which are not true. When part of this State was set off as a new Diocese and chose the name of Northern New Jersey, our proper title should have been Southern New Jersey. But since our sister Diocese has long since relinquished its territorial name and taken that of its chief city, we have an example which can be safely followed. The change would affect no invested rights, so long as its identity could be established in law, while it would be a return to the traditions of the church's earliest days. It might be a most difficult and delicate problem to settle the claims of our chief cities. Burlington was meant originally to be the seat of the Bishop; New Brunswick, Trenton and Elizabeth have claims on historic grounds; Camden has the largest population of any city in Diocese, and others of growing importance, though newer, that might fairly urge their claims. I am not sure that the time has come even to discuss the question, much less to disturb long-rooted traditions, only I feel more and more the anomaly of signing myself Bishop of New Jersey when, in fact, I can claim jurisdiction over a portion of the State only.

For a good while it has been in contemplation to hold a meeting of Bishops on this side of the Atlantic ocean—a Pan-American Council—and the time seems propitious for it now. The Bishops of Canada are desirous of closer relations with us, and we need the benefit of their counsels. It is therefore mutually agreed that a joint meeting shall be held in the city of Washington in October next to discuss questions of common interest and to be drawn into closer fellowship. Heretofore the personal intercourse between the church in Canada and our own has been of the most formal character and very infrequent. Our General Convention sends a deputation to their triennial Council and they return the compliment by sending representatives to us. The coming Council, it is hoped, will bring us into closer personal relations as members of the one body. On the week following, the great Missionary Council of the church will hold its sessions in the same city, and the presence of so many distinguished guests will add interest to that popular gathering. Those who were privileged to attend the last Missionary Council in the city of Philadelphia need not be told of the enthusiasm for missions that went out into all the church from that memorable series of meetings. The Missionary Council has got beyond the experimental stage. It cannot pass laws; it can neither make nor unmake Constitution and Canons, and therefore it has seemed to some a waste of time to come together and discuss questions that cannot be determinately settled. I am inclined to think that it owes its chief popularity to the fact that it is in no sense a legislative body. It can freely criticise methods and recommend reforms, and help to shape and mould public opinion in the church. It is the only really popular gathering where the whole church is represented. The General Convention gives itself chiefly to making or mending the laws. Its discussions generally are not an appeal to sentiment or feeling. They are for the most part about technicalities, which do not excite enthusiasm or enlist the interest of the great body of the people. The missionary interests of the church are surely gaining in popular esteem, and the success of the Missionary Council is in part, I am sure, both the cause and the result of this. We have our chosen representatives from this Diocese, and it is earnestly hoped that no plans will be made that will hinder them from the discharge of this important duty and service to the general church. Others, beside those regularly appointed, will be made welcome.

The year that has intervened since our last Convention has been full of stirring events, and will be memorable in history. The great unrest among the army of toilers and the long-continued contest of the coal miners brought the whole nation face to face with dire suffering, and emphasized the fact that no man liveth to himself, but is dependent on the labor of others for the bare necessities of life, whether he be rich or poor. The battle between capital and labor seems very far from settlement and still raps among the great issues of our time. The only possible solution that I can see is not some human palliative, that reaches no deeper than the surface, but an earnest pressing home on heart and conscience of the sin of selfishness, and duty to others, as well as duty to God.

It should be ground for grateful thanksgiving that the principle of arbitration in great international issues has received a fresh impulse in the past year. This may be the faint dawning of the day foretold in prophecy when men should beat their swords into pruning hooks, and wars should cease in all the world. In the church, as well as in social life, while there is much to be thankful for, there are some things which bring the blush of shame to our faces. The painful and startling fact has been made manifest, both in England and here among ourselves, that there are disloyal men in the ministry, false to their ordination vows, openly and boastfully perjuring themselves. I am happy in the belief that they are few in number, and if they were honest men they would go out from us because they are not of us. A man, whose personal opinion would be worth very little to those who know him best, enlists the printing press and scatters broadcast his erratic or false teachings. Sensational newspapers copy it with startling headlines, and many good people are distressed as though the whole body of the clergy were under suspicion as disloyal or unsound teachers. On the contrary, the clergy as a body, and with a very few insignificant exceptions, are loyal, faithful and hard-working men, above suspicion and worthy of all honor. To vindicate their good name this church should follow the recent example of the Bishop of London in the case of the par at Shoreditch and compel the offenders either to withdraw voluntarily or under compulsion.

I am proud that I can say it with a good conscience that there is not one among the clergy of this Diocese who is not loyal to the core in the great essentials of the faith held and taught by this church. I believe there is entire agreement, and I spurn for myself, as well as the clergy, the imputation of disloyalty to the Reformation settlement, which the charges are being made just now in certain quarters by those who are openly hostile or willingly ignorant. In spite of human frailties, and in spite of the disloyalty of one here and there, the church which we love and serve stands while the world stands as the pillar and ground of truth. The ark of God needs not to be sustained by our feeble hands or mine.

Let the clergy see to it that the law of the church be the rule of their conduct in their ministrations, and the voice of the slanderer will cease, while the weakest member of the flock will not be offended.

So far as I know, every interest of the Diocese is in its most healthful condition. There has been a slight falling off in the number confirmed, but I am inclined to think that this is largely due to the increased care of the clergy in preparing their classes.

I have made a pretty thorough visitation of the Diocese, omitting very few of the parishes or missions, and at nearly every point I have been cheered by signs of progress and healthy growth. We are not doing all we ought for church extension, but we are neither stagnant nor idle. Details of the year's doings will be laid before you by the various committees and published for information in the Journal. As we may have the guidance of the Holy Spirit in all we do and say.

CLERICAL REPORTS.

(For Addresses, see Alphabetical Clergy List.)

THE REV. CHAS. A. BREWSTER.—Since the last report I have been actively and continuously engaged in mission work in Western North Carolina and Southern Florida. Since last November I have had sole charge of two churches, St. Barnabas', De Lawd, and St. Timothy's, Orange City, Florida, being still in charge of the same.

THE REV. ROBERT E. CAMPBELL.—Since I resigned the rectorship of Christ Church, Bordentown, last autumn, I have baptized 3 children, officiated at 5 funerals, 2 marriages, and held a number of services in and outside the Diocese.

THE REV. F. D. CANFIELD.—I would respectfully report that during the past Conventional year I have celebrated 13 times, assisted at 35, and also other service, all in the Church of the Epiphany, Pelham, Germantown, Phila.

THE REV. F. B. CHETWOOD.—I would respectfully report that during the last Conventional year I have occasionally said the daily service, and have celebrated the Holy Communion in public four times. For the last five months I have acted as a private secretary and assistant of the rector of the Church of the Holy Communion, New York.

THE REV. F. B. CROZIER.—In compliance with the requirement of the Canon, I beg to report that since resigning my charge at St. George's, Rumson Hills, with St. John's Chapel, Little Silver, I have done regular clerical duty at St. Paul's Chapel, Trinity Parish, New York.

THE REV. JOHN D. FERGUSON.—For the year just closed my report of services includes all the clerical offices pertaining to the chaplaincy of the New Jersey Soldiers' Home.

THE REV. W. R. HARRIS.—I respectfully report that during the past year I have officiated on a few occasions where opportunity has offered. There are no official acts that have to be recorded.

THE REV. C. W. KNAUFF.—During the past Conventional year I have been on temporary duty at a number of places, latterly at the Church of the Redeemer, New York City. My literary work continues.

THE REV. LOUIS K. LEWIS respectfully reports that during the past Diocesan year he has officiated every Sunday, his official acts being duly recorded in the churches where he has been engaged.

THE REV. L. H. LIGHTHIPE.—In accordance with the requirements of the Canons, I beg leave to report that during the past year I have been officiating as assistant to the rector of St. Mark's Church, Orange, N. J.

THE REV. HASLETT MCKIM.—My report this year must be but a repetition of last year's. In the winter I have been engaged in my work in the New York Deaconess' School. For the rest of the time I have officiated regularly in assisting the rector of my former parish, in the Highlands of Navesink, N. J.

THE REV. B. R. PHELPS.—Since July last I have regularly assisted in the parochial and mission work at Fairview, Riverside and Shedakers, and as this work has not taken all my time since last Convention, I have also taken services at Cape May, Downingtown, Philadelphia and vicinity.

THE REV. CHARLES E. PHELPS.—During the year I have conducted services once a month at St. James', Piscataway, and at other places, and have assisted the rector of St. John's, Elizabeth, frequently.

THE REV. T. M. REILLY.—The services of St. John's Chapel have been kept up regularly during the year. The congregations have been, for the most part, pupils of St. Agnes' Hall and St. John's Academy.

THE REV. WILLIAM BENJAMIN REYNOLDS.—I beg to report that I have been ministering, since I left Burlington, at Sodus Point, Union Hill and Wolcott, in the Diocese of Western New York, by license of Bishop Walker.

THE REV. CHARLES W. SHIELDS, D.D.—I respectfully report that during the past year I have performed the usual duties of the Professor of the Harmony of Science and Revealed Religion in Princeton University; that I have occasionally officiated in Divine services; that I have attended the meetings of the Convention and Convocation, and that I have represented the Diocese as Trustee in the meetings of the Trustees of the General Theological Seminary.

THE REV. S. P. SIMPSON.—During the past Convention year I have officiated almost continuously. For four months I was in charge of All Angels' Parish, Shinnecock Hills, L. I. For three months I served St. John Baptist House, New York City; for one month, House of Mercy, Inwood, New York, and on other Sundays held service wherever the opportunity offered. I have solemnized one marriage.

Appendix IX.

CONVOCATION OF BURLINGTON.

DEAN'S REPORT.

In presenting the annual report, "giving the conditions, needs and progress in detail of the Missions of the Convocation," as the Canon requires, I am glad to mark some development of our work. This development is in part on new lines, and in part on the older ways. During the year past, we have aided the work in the following places:

St. Augustine's, Camden, Rev. Mr. Phillips.

St. John's, Chews; St. Mary's, Clementon, and a new Mission at Magnolia, Rev. Mr. Gordon.

Grace, Crosswicks, the Associate Mission.

Holy Trinity, Delair, and Christ, Palmyra, Rev. Mr. Smith.

Holy Nativity, Dorothy, in charge of the Dean.

St. Peter's, Medford, and Grace, Pemberton, Rev. Mr. Long.

Christ, Millville, and Christ, South Vineland, vacant.

St. Stephen's, Mullica Hill; St. James', Paulsboro, and St. Barnabas', Mantua, Rev. Mr. Bishop.

Of these aided points, the new Mission at Magnolia is an entirely new point. The services were started there by the Bishop and Rev. Mr. Gordon during the year, and the outlook is very favorable for a prosperous work. The town is a growing one, on the line of the Atlantic City R. R.

St. Barnabas', Mantua, has been taken up by Rev. Mr. Bishop during the year, and while we have not, as yet, made an appropriation for this point, it is dependent upon our Missionary for its care.

In detail, the work at St. Augustine's, Camden, has made substantial progress in paying off its indebtedness, and Rev. Mr. Phillips must rejoice that he has succeeded, where it would seem almost impossible to do so much. The people now desire to make their Church stronger by obtaining the other parts of a working Parish.

At Chews and Clementon, we can only report that the work goes on, and goes on steadily, but the progress is necessarily slow.

Crosswicks is not growing, but rather declining, as towns off the lines of railroads generally do. Still, we keep up regular services and the people have the ministrations of the Associate Mission.

and Palmyra keep on in a regular way, but Delair is not as a town, while Palmyra is thriving, and we need to continue assistance.

and Pemberton are reported as moving very satisfactorily, work is progressing substantially.

Hill has lost greatly by death. When a small band of Com- s is reduced by the death of two or three, it makes a differ- he outlook. Services at Mantua were for a time omitted, and ionary accepted this additional work, and the people there pay ces the amount they can.

CONVOCATION OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

DEAN'S REPORT.

In accordance with the requirement of the Canon, the Dean of the Convocation of New Brunswick herewith presents his annual report of the condition and prospects of the missionary work within the Convocation limits. The report must necessarily deal with bare facts and concise statistics which call up no picture to the mind, and ordinarily fail to excite a vivid interest; but for those who are able to look behind the collated facts, and who know something of the hopes and struggles for which they stand, even the brief item and summarized table will have an engaging meaning. There has been the usual change in the personnel of the Associate Mission during the year, but its band of laborers has been kept full and its work has been carried on with unabated vigor. The number of places under its charge is less than was reported a year ago, but this is chiefly due to the fact that some of the Missions and parishes it served have gone off into independent existence, and have been able to secure the service of settled pastors. The reduction in the number of Missionary Stations will work no injury to the general cause, as it enables the Associate Mission to give more time and attention to the development of the work in the more promising fields of its operation. The list of places served by it during the year is as follows: Alexandria, Allaire, Allentown, Carteret, Clinton, Crosswicks, Cheesequake, Flemington, High Bridge, Little Rocky Hill, Matawan, Mercerville, Monmouth Junction, Perth Amboy, Pittstown, Plainfield, Point Pleasant, Rahway, Rocky Hill, Sand Hills, South River, Sea Girt, Trenton Junction, Wilbur. On October 29th the Associate Mission relinquished the charge of South River and Cheesequake, and gave it into the hands of the Rev. Mr. West, who has since been laboring in both places. The church building at Cheesequake was completed and consecrated in the summer, and the venture of putting a church there has been fully justified by the results attained. The church is good in style, and the congregation is an interested and growing one. A new church, costing $8,000, has been built at Sea Girt, and was used for the first time on Easter Day. There is a deduction of $5,000 on the building, but a devoted church woman, who has been the real inspiration of the movement, has made herself personal sponsible for its payment. It is the desire of the people at Sea Girt that this church should be kept open all the year, and they have pledged themselves to pay $400 annually of the additional expense to which this would put the Convocation. This church is good fruit of a little Cottage Service held once a month by the Associate Mission at the house of Mrs. Oglesby. At Allaire there has been considerable expansion of the work since our last report, and the Mission expects at once to begin a weekly service there instead of a monthly one as heretofore. The prospects of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Plainfield, are so encouraging as to move the people there to propose that the undivided time and attention of a clergyman be given to the parish. Would that the Convocation were able to accede to the proposal! A brighter day seems to be in store for the Church of the Holy Cross, Perth Amboy, and we have hope of soon seeing the harvest of the good seed sown in that field in past years.

At Rocky Hill funds have been collected for a memorial window which will soon be placed in the church. Steady progress has been made in most of the other places served by the Associate Mission, and the results of another year's experiment corroborate the view we have before expressed of the value to the Convocation of such associated labor.

From the reports of Missions served by settled pastors we glean the following items:

At All Saints' Church, Scotch Plains, general interest and good feeling continue to prevail. Another $500 has just been paid upon the mortgage debt.

At St. James', Piscatawaytown, Mr. E. W. McGann, Lay Reader, and Mr. S. E. Burwell, Superintendent, have done very efficient work. The services are well attended, the property is in good condition and is free from debt.

The removal of a number of families from Holy Innocents, Dunellen, has weakened the parish, and its prospects seem less promising than they were a year ago. But the Missionary is trying "to hold fast that which he has, that no man take his crown."

At Trinity, Hightstown, branches of the Woman's Auxiliary and the Girls' Friendly Society have been organized, and these have outgrown the accommodation available for their use. It would gladden the heart of the Missionary there if one would enable him to rent a room for the working societies of the parish.

At Sandy Hook the Rector of Navesink still gives a monthly celebration of the Holy Communion to the few church folk left in the Fort. A chaplain has been ordered to this post.

There are signs of progress in the large Missionary work done by parishes without Convocation aid, and of these we note the following:

Grace Church, Trenton, which has but recently attained parochial independence, has added to the burden of self-support the care of a Mission in an outlying part of the city and the cost of a chapel erected during the year for a growing congregation. Out of such an example of Missionary Spirit there ought to come an inspiration for many an older parish.

St. John's, Elizabeth, has doubled the capacity of the Mission Church connected with the parish, and thus made needful provision for a rapidly expanding work.

Christ, Elizabeth, besides building its Parish Hall, has efficiently conducted Missionary operation in another part of the city.

Christ, South Amboy, still sustains Missionary work in two places, and St. Luke's, Metuchen; Trinity, Red Bank; Trinity, Princeton; Christ, Toms River; St. Luke's, Roselle, and Christ, Trenton, all supply services in their vicinity without cost to the Convocation.

The Charge of St. John's, Little Silver, fell into the hands of the Rev. Mr. Baily, Rector of Shrewsbury, on the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Crozier last autumn, and all things are moving on harmoniously in this Mission.

The Rev. T. A. Conover is sustaining Missionary Services in several places in the neighborhood of St. Bernard's, Bernardsville, and is conducting a Farm School, missionary in its aim, which ought to have the lively interest and support of the Convocation. The school is designed to give boys an opportunity to earn for themselves, under Christian and Church influence, an education which will fit them for business, farming, trade or college. The cost to a boy is only $100 a year in money and $50 in work. Fifteen scholars have been in attendance in the past year, and $18,000 have been expended in the purchase and improvement of the property. The school, begun in a missionary spirit, may become a very useful arm of our Convocation work.

Services which help to spread the knowledge of the Church are maintained in a number of seaside churches during the summer months but of these no report is made to the Dean.

The principal summer churches are at Avon, Beach Haven, Bay Head, Belmar, Elberon, Island Heights, Mantoloking, Monmouth Beach, Piquette, Pleasant, Spring Lake.

From reports of our aided Missions sent to the Dean the following summary of statistics is gathered:

Services during the year,	1,711
Celebrations, Holy Communion,	282
Baptisms, adults,	17
Baptisms, infants,	50
Confirmations,	19

Burials,	19
Parochial visits (Associate Mission),	2,067
Aggregate attendance at services (Associate Mission),	21,262

In closing his report the Dean would express the hope that there may be such a deepening of Missionary interest in the parishes as shall lead to a more generous support of the Convocation work, and cause it to be viewed as not only a transmitted responsibility, but as a gladly accepted opportunity to serve the Church's Risen Head.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ALFRED B. BAKER,
Rural Dean.

A. D. 1904.

TITLE I.

CANON I.—SEC. 2

OF THE TESTIMONIALS TO BE GIVEN TO LAY DEPUTIES.

The certificates of the election of Lay Deputies shall be in the following form:

[Name of the Church, the place and date]

This certifies that at a meeting of the congregation of this Church, for the purpose of electing Church Officers and Deputies to the Convention (or for the purpose of electing Deputies to the Convention, if the meeting be for that object alone), A. B., C. D., and E. F., being members of the congregation and communicants of the Church, were duly chosen to represent the parish in the Convention for the year ensuing. In testimony of which I have hereunto set my hand (or if the two Wardens subscribe, we have set our hands) the day and year above written.

N. B.—The signature of either the Rector or the Secretary of the Vestry is sufficient. If neither the Rector nor the Secretary signs, then the signatures of both Wardens are necessary. [A Clergyman who is simply a Minister-in-Charge, or Missionary, cannot sign.]

In the case of a congregation organized under Trustees, the certificate may be signed by two Trustees, in lieu of the Wardens.

The Lay Representation is limited to three Deputies, whose names should be carefully and legibly written.

This certificate is to "be transmitted to the Secretary of the Convention AT LEAST TEN DAYS BEFORE THE MEETING OF THE ANNUAL CONVENTION."

In order to secure this, the Secretary will forward a blank form to every Parish; and he earnestly asks the moster attention of the Clergy.

In Article IV, Section 3, of the Constitution, it is provided that "the Deputies, with their alternates, shall be chosen by the Congregation from the male communicants thereof, and no Lay Deputy shall represent more than one Parish."

THE NEXT CONVENTION OF THE DIOCESE OF NEW JERSEY WILL BE HELD, GOD WILLING, IN GRACE CHURCH, PLAINFIELD, BEGINNING ON TUESDAY, MAY NINTH, ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND FIVE AT HALF-PAST TEN O'CLOCK A. M.

JOURNAL.

CHRIST CHURCH, ELIZABETH,

TUESDAY, May 3d, 1904.

This being the time and place designated by the Constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New Jersey for the meeting of the Annual Convention of said Church, the Bishop and a number of the Clergy and Laity assembled in Christ Church, Elizabeth; when, at 9:30 A. M., the Bishop began the Order for the Administration of the Holy Communion, in which he was assisted by the venerable Dean Perkins and the Rev. Dr. Shields. The music at this service was furnished entirely by the members of the Convention.

The Convention Sermon was preached by the Rev. Charles Wooder, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Rahway, his text being St. Jude V, 3—"Ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints."

The Rector welcomed the Convention to the hospitalities of Christ Church, and published the order of Convention.

After Divine Service, in the Parish Hall, the Bishop took the chair and called the Convention to order. Under the direction of the Right Reverend President, the Secretary read the names of the Clergy entitled to seats in the Convention. He also called the names of the Lay Deputies from the parishes which had sent in certificates of election in accordance with the requirements of the Canon, and which, in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution, had not been elected for two successive years to pay their Conventional assessments, and reported that there was present a Constitutional quorum (96 Clergy and 91 Lay Deputies). Whereupon the Bishop declared the Convention duly organized, and appointed Messrs. Bayard Stockton, Humphreys, Gales, Buck and Simmons as the Committee on Certificates of Lay Deputies. The Committee subsequently reported as follows, and the report was adopted:

The Committee on Certificates of Lay Deputies respectfully report that they have received the certificates of election of Lay Deputies from Trinity Church, Trenton, and from Holy Cross, North Plainfield, and that they find the same correct.

They have been furnished with evidence of the existence of a certificate of election of Deputies from the Church of our Saviour, Camden, and of the loss of that certificate, and they unanimously recommend that the deputies named in the lost certificate be given seats in this Convention as regularly elected deputies from that parish.

The names of Deputies from parishes reported favorably were then called by the Secretary.

The election of a Secretary being in order, and but one candidate having been nominated, Mr. James Parker was authorized to cast the ballot for the Rev. Herbert Stanley Smith, and the Bishop declared his election. The Secretary gave notice that he had appointed the Rev. Charles Fiske, B.D., to be his Assistant.

He also read the report of the Standing Committee:

The Rev. Dr. Sleeper read the following, and the report was adopted:

The Committee on the Admission of New Parishes reports that application has been made by the Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Mary's-by-the-Sea Church in Point Pleasant, New Jersey, for admission into union with the Convention. It appears that this parish has been duly and legally incorporated, but having failed to present, in accordance with paragraphs 3 and 4 of Section 1, Article V, of the Constitution, the proper resolutions promising conformity and obedience, and that the parish is able to support a Rector without Missionary aid, and is not encumbered, and, in addition, the requirements of paragraph 2 were carelessly followed; therefore, the Committee reports adversely on the application.

Also that application for admission into union with the Convention has been made by St. John's Church-in-the-Wilderness, Gibbsboro, but the resolutions provided for by paragraphs 3 and 4, Section 1, Article V, of the Constitution were adopted and dated before the incorporation of the parish, and, therefore, were not made as required by the Vestry of the parish; therefore, the Committee is obliged to report adversely on the application.

Application has also been made by the Rector and Trustees of St. Bernard's Church, Bernardsville, but we regret to report adversely on the application because none of the papers required by paragraph 2, Section 1, Article V, of the Constitution have been authenticated. They are merely typewritten copies with typewritten signatures.

Under a reconsideration of the Convention's action, on motion of Mr. Parker it was Resolved, That St. Mary's-by-the-Sea, Point Pleasant, and St. John's-in-the-Wilderness, Gibbsboro, be admitted into union with the Convention.

It was moved by Mr. Parker that the papers in the case of Bernardsville be referred back to the parish authorities, with request that they present authenticated copies to-morrow.

The Rev. Mr. Bogert proposed as a substitute for the above:

Resolved, That St. Bernard's parish be admitted into union with the Convention.

On motion of Mr. Gales the whole matter was laid over until Wednesday and made the order of the day after the elections.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Atkinson it was Resolved, That a committee of five clergymen and five laymen be appointed to take into consideration the whole matter of mission apportionment.

The Bishop appointed as such Committee: The Rev. J. Atkinson, the Rev. James F. Olmsted, the Rev. R. Bowdler Shepherd, the Rev. Thomas A. Conover, the Rev. W. Dutton Dale, Mr. Charles Townsend, Mr. James Parker, Mr. Henry A. Neilson, Mr. George A. Armour, Mr. Warren R. Dix.

Moved by the Rev. Mr. Emhardt that, in accordance with the Bishop's suggestion, a committee of five clergymen and five laymen be appointed to consider and report upon the whole question of Sunday school organization and teaching. The motion was carried, and the Bishop appointed the following Committee: The Rev. H. H. Oberly, D. D., the Rev. W. C. Emhardt, the Rev. W. H. Burkhardt, and

Rev. Edward J. Knight, the Rev. Elliot White, Mr. Charles Ewan Merritt, Mr. August A. DeVoe, Mr. S. E. Burwell, Mr. J. Lindsay Clarkson, Prof. Elias F. Carr.

On motion of Mr. James Parker, it was Resolved, That the Secretary send, by telegraph, the friendly and brotherly greetings of this Convention, to our brethren of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, now in Convention assembled.

The following reply was subsequently received:

The members of the Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania send greetings to their brethren of the Convention of the Diocese of New Jersey.

M. G. HUFF,
Secretary.

On motion, adjourned.

TUESDAY, May 3d, 8 P. M.

Evening Prayer was read by the Rev. Dr. Oberly, Rector of the parish, assisted by the Rev. Howard E. Thompson, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Freehold.

See Appendices VIII and IX.

The Rev. E. J. Knight presented the reports of the Associate Mission.

See Appendix X.

See Appendix XI.

The Bishop made the opening address and introduced the speakers of the evening, the Rev. Harvey Officer, Jr., and the Rev. Robert W. Forsyth.

Offerings were received in aid of the Missions of the Diocese, to be divided equally between the two Conventions.

The Bishop said the closing Prayers and gave the Benediction.

WEDNESDAY, May 4th, 1904

The Bishop, assisted by the Rev. H. E. Thompson, celebrated the Holy Communion at 7 o'clock in Christ Church and there was also a Celebration in St. John's Church.

Morning Prayer was said at 9 o'clock.

At 10 o'clock the Rt. Rev. President took the chair and called the Convention to order. The Secretary called the names of the members who were not present on the preceding day.

Tuesday's minutes were read and approved.

The Rev. Dr. Glazebrook, on behalf of the Committee on Constitutions and Canons, moved that their report be received under suspension of the rules. Motion carried and report was read and adopted.

Five amendments have been submitted as follows:

"As there is a conflict between Article V, Sec. 2 of the Constitution and Sec. 3 of the State Laws (page 45 Constitution and Canons), amend Article V, Sec. 2 so that for "at least five Vestrymen" it will read "thirteen or nine Vestrymen."

Reported favorably, and if report is adopted it will lie over until next year.

Also add to Article IV, Sec. 2, "Any Rector who has been elected by the Vestry of his parish Rector Emeritus shall have the same rights and privileges continued to him as are extended to other Presbyters."

Reported unfavorably.

Resolved, That Canon II, Title II, Sec. 3, be amended in line 3, after the word "age" by the insertion of the words "who are regular attendants upon the services of that parish, and who," &c.

Reported adversely.

Insert after the word "standing," "or having removed from the Diocese to accept work elsewhere, shall afterwards return to the Diocese and become canonically resident."

Reported adversely.

Add to Title II, Canon V, a new section, to be numbered 4, as follows: "When a Curate is to be chosen in any parish, the Rector shall have right of nomination and the Vestry of election. In every election the advice of the Bishop shall be sought."

Add to the words of the Title of the Canon "of vacant Parishes" the words "and the election of Rectors and Curates."

Reported adversely.

The hour having arrived for the election of Standing Committee and other officers, under the Rules of Order, the Bishop appointed the Rev. Dr. McKay and Mr. H. A. Neilson to act as tellers for the Clerical vote, and the Rev. Mr. Rodman and Mr. John Osbourn for the Lay vote.

A ballot, by orders, was then taken for the Standing Committee, and the tellers reported as its result the election of the following:

The Standing Committee—The Rev. Dr. Baker, the Rev. R. G. Moses, the Rev. Dr. Oberly, the Rev. C. M. Perkins, Mr. Francis Collingwood, Mr. Howard Richards, Mr. E. R. Shubrick, Mr. J. B. Woodward.

The Chancellor reported that in his opinion the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund have not the power to reduce the amount of the bond of Trinity Church, Red Bank, and that the Convention has not the power to vary the requirements of the Canon as to parish bonds by resolution.

On motion of the Rev. Elliot White it was resolved, That the accrued interest on the recent bond of five hundred dollars given by Trinity Church, Red Bank, on account of increase of the Episcopal Fund, be remitted.

The recommendation contained in the following supplementary report, presented by the Rev. Dr. Sleeper, was adopted :

The Committee on the Admission of New Parishes having had presented to them by the Rector of St. Bernards' Church, Bernardsville, the properly authenticated records of the minutes, resolutions and other proceedings of organization, together with the Certificate of Incorporation, signed and sealed by the County Clerk, do recommend the admission of said parish into union with this Convention.

The Secretary then read his report and that of the Registrar as follows:

The books and journals belonging to the Diocese are in good order. The journals of our last Convention have been duly mailed to the Registrar or Secretary of every Diocese and missionary jurisdiction. A number of volumes have been received and placed in the Diocesan Library at Trenton.

I beg leave to offer my resignation of the office of Registrar.

WILLIAM N. BAILY.

The Secretary respectfully reports that during the year he has discharged the usual duties of his office.

He desires to express his thanks to the Rev. Drs. Jones and Oberly for their assistance in so recasting the form of the Journal that it now seems to meet with almost universal approval. If there are no objections, he proposes to print Parochial Reports, etc., as the last Appendix, for otherwise little work can be done until two weeks after Convention.

At the same time he earnestly requests the reverend clergy to send in their Parochial Reports at once, so that the tabulation of statistics may proceed promptly, and he thanks those who have done so already.

HERBERT STANLEY SMITH,

Secretary.

On motion of the Rev. W. Strother Jones, D.D., it was Resolved, That the salary of the Secretary be $350 per annum.

Thirtieth Annual Address of the Rt. Rev.
John Scarborough, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese.

DEAR BRETHREN OF THE CONVENTION :

It has been my great privilege, now, for many consecutive years, to greet the clergy and laity assembled in our yearly gathering as the representatives of the Diocese, and I repeat that greeting to-day with added emphasis and very special thankfulness. On the 2d day of February last—the Feast of the Purification—I entered on my thirtieth year of service as your Bishop, and I record very gratefully the honor done me on that day by the whole Diocese. My term of service has thus been longer than that vouchsafed to any of my predecessors in office. Bishop Croes, the first Bishop of New Jersey, and the sixteenth in the American line, was consecrated in 1815. That was a day of small things for our Church, but the faithful sowing of the seed has brought forth a wonderful harvest. When Dr. Croes was elected Bishop he received but four clerical votes of those in attendance. The Rev. Dr. Wharton received one vote—neither of the nominees voting—so that there were but seven clergymen in attendance at the Convention. What a contrast in less than a century! Bishop Croes labored faithfully for seventeen years, and was succeeded by George Washington Doane, one of the most brilliant men of his day, and for twenty-seven years, under the inspiration and guidance of his wonderful genius, New Jersey attained a foremost place in the American Church. His efforts on behalf of Christian education cost him dear, but the wish of his life and the honor he craved most have been granted, in the survival and prosperity of St. Mary's Hall, for well nigh seventy years. This school was the forerunner and the pioneer in an untried field, but is now the mother of a large progeny, having daughters in many Dioceses, from ocean to ocean. Bishop Odenheimer's Episcopate covered twenty years, nineteen of them as Bishop of the whole State and one as Bishop of the Northern Diocese. Thus, the sum total of the years of service of my predecessors in office was sixty-three, and if God spares me two years more I shall have served half as long as the term of the three honored names that stand above mine in the annals of the Diocese and the general Church. Bishop Philander Chase stands next but one to Bishop Croes in the American line of succession, and I remember him perfectly well. With a very few exceptions I have seen all the Bishops—and known many of them—consecrated from the eighteenth to the two hundred and seventeenth in the list, and of the ninety-three now living, I find my own name getting perilously near the top of the line.

If you will consult the clergy list, as published in the last Journal, you will find the names of only eight who were present when I was chosen Bishop, and have been residents of the Diocese continuously since that time. Some who were present have been transferred elsewhere and returned. Some are still laboring in other Dioceses, and many have heard the call of the Master—to go up higher. Our clergy list has been diminished by one death during the year. The Rev. Henry E. Duncan, D.D., long disabled from active duty, at the ripe age of four-score years, found his rest on March 29th, and was buried among his early friends and parishioners, at Matteawan, New York. He and I were neighbors and close friends more than forty years ago, and it was with very great satisfaction that I welcomed him to this Diocese and the charge of Grace Church, Elizabeth, where he labored till failing health compelled him to resign. A most genial nature and an element of quiet humor made him friends in goodly number, and added greatly to his popularity as a man and a Priest. Death has invaded the rectory of St. John's Church, Camden, and I am sure the Rev. Mr. Underhill has had the sympathy and prayers of all who knew his departed wife, and therefore can measure adequately the extent of his loss and the keenness of his bereavement.

Five Bishops have been called home during the past twelve months. On the 21st of May I said the last office of the Church over the mortal part of my near neighbor and dear friend, the Bishop of Newark. I had known him in my boyhood as Rector of Christ Church, Troy, N. Y., and afterwards in Albany, Cleveland and Washington. As a Bishop we were drawn closely together, both by geographical lines and by old association. It has been my privilege for a good while to know his successor, and I greatly rejoice in his call to the Diocese of Newark, to fill the chair left vacant by the death of Bishop Starkey.

Bishop Clark, of Rhode Island, the Presiding Bishop of the Church, was the oldest Prelate in Christendom, by consecration, at the time of his death in September last. He was a Bishop for nearly fifty years, and filled a large place in the history of his day and generation.

Bishop Leonard, of Utah, was in the prime of his life and the strength of his manhood when called to lay down his hard task. He was greatly beloved, and the loss of such a brave, true man is mourned by the whole Church.

Bishop Ingle, of Hankow, China, young in years and in office, fell under the heavy burden of attempting to do a very large mission work without sufficient means for doing it.

“His sun went down while it was yet day,” and the whole Church should feel shame that such a brave soldier was left to labor and die, his cry for help unanswered. His zeal literally consumed him. His last letter, received after his death, and published in a late number of The Spirit of Missions, is very sad reading, and should awaken, in the Church at home, quickened interest in the work of foreign missions.

How shall I venture to speak of my more than friend, the late Bishop Dudley, of Kentucky? He was one of the noblest natures and the manliest of men that I have ever known. We were friends before we took our seats together in the House of Bishops. Consecrated in the same week, he only a few days before me, he rarely or never failed to mark the anniversary with a kindly greeting. I loved him as a brother, and I bless God for the love he gave me. The last utterance I heard from his eloquent lips was his great speech, near the close of the Missionary Council in Washington last October. His strong plea for missions seemed to burn its way to the hearts of the great congregation. No death, outside of my own kin, has brought me such a deep sense of loss, or come to me as a monition of life's shortness and uncertainty.

On the week succeeding the last Convention there was held, in St. Mary's Church, Burlington, a series of most interesting services, and sermons commemorative of two hundred years of parochial life. Former Rectors were called back, old friends and parishioners came from far and near in goodly numbers. The interest never flagged throughout the entire week. The hospitality of the parish was equal to the great demands made upon it, and from first to last there was no break in the arrangements so carefully made. A very beautiful memorial volume has been printed, giving a detailed and accurate account of what was said and done in that memorable week—the scattered threads of two centuries of history, gathered up and framed into a beautiful mosaic, telling the story of that venerable parish, by those who knew it well, or helped to make its honorable record.

St. John's Church, Elizabeth, followed closely on St. Mary's, Burlington, with a like commemoration. A very admirable historic paper was prepared and read by Mr. Warren R. Dix, a member of the Vestry. That, too, has been published, and is a fit companion-piece to the record of St. Mary's. The day was one of great gladness, and many were the congratulations extended to the Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen on the achievements of the past and prospects before them, in a new century of church life. A grand Te Deum and an appropriate sermon, by the Bishop Coadjutor of Pennsylvania, closed the exercises, which were all compressed into a single day, and were of intense interest.

Several other parishes of this Diocese are nearing the two hundred year mark: St. Michael's, Trenton; St. Peter's, Perth Amboy; St. John's, Salem; Trinity, Woodbridge; St. Peter's, Spottswood, and Christ Church, New Brunswick, are among the most venerable of the foundations laid in early colonial days by the missionaries of the Church of England, sent out by "The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts."

During the past year an edition of the Holy Bible has been added to the long list of editions already in existence. It has a special interest for us, because it is, so far as I know, the only Bible that has the sanction of the General Convention. It is the old familiar text, with marginal readings added. The work has been well done by a joint commission of able scholars, and will, I am quite sure, commend itself for general use, both in public and private reading.

The question is often asked why "The Revised Version" may not be used in the service of the Church—at least as an alternative, and it might be an all-sufficient answer for us, at any rate, to say that the General Convention refused to license it for use in Churches. No one would presume to question the great learning of the scholars who made this translation, and yet it has failed to supplant the old, or to commend itself to general favor. The late Professor Goodenough of the Philadelphia Divinity School, who ranked even among the most accurate and painstaking scholars of our day, published a volume which deserved a better fate than to be forgotten, reviewing the work of the translation from beginning to end, and showing how almost countless changes were made in the text without making clearer the meaning of the Bible—mere verbal changes, which violated the canon of interpretation adopted by the revisers themselves. The omission of the Apocrypha is, of course, a most serious hindrance to its use in the public service of the Church. The late Bishop of Durham, Bishop Westcott, declares that he has not been able to find any authority, of either Convention or Parliament, for the words inserted on the title page of the Bible, "Authorized to be read in Churches," and so claims that the Revised Bible stands on equal footing with the King James. Whether this be so or not, for the Anglican Church the Bible that has the imprimatur of the highest law-making body is surely authorized and licensed for use. I find it a great help in my own reading and study of the Word of God, and I commend it very confidently to the favor of the clergy and laity of this Diocese.

The last Journal of Convention reveals a very strange and curious state of things in connection with the list of communicants. There were nearly a thousand persons confirmed, a very large majority of whom would naturally to swell the list of communicants, and doubtless others were added by transfer to the various parishes, and yet for all that the published statistics show, instead of a gain for the year, a falling off of sixty seven. The compilers of the various Church almanacs wrote me for the correction of what seemed a gross blunder in the figures of the Journal. To my great mortification at this seeming decay in the Diocese, I found, on a careful study of the parochial reports, that no mistake had been made in the general summary. One parish alone had actually wiped out two hundred and twenty-five names from the parish register, another two hundred, and still another lost one hundred and thirty-two "by removal," others less, but the sum total of losses for the year was almost or quite a thousand; the net loss from the figures of the previous year was sixty-seven. I confess I am a good deal puzzled to know by what process of arithmetic this result was brought about. I know very well the difficulty in keeping an accurate list of communicants. Whole families move away from the parish without seeking a transfer. The clergy, too, are very careless about giving and demanding transfers, and so it happens, especially in our large cities, that there is a great army of unattached communicants, who are lost, practically, and counted nowhere. Still I am at a loss to understand the process by which many hundreds of names are removed from the communicant list with a stroke of the pen, and to all intents excommunicated. This great falling off exhibits the Diocese before the whole Church as, in a moribund condition, and helps to destroy all confidence in statistics. If it is the result of careless book-keeping, then it is a clear violation of the Canon, which makes accurate records a part of the Priest's duty. If it is a sign and pledge that only actual communicants shall be counted, I would gladly see the returns diminished by one-half, rather than get credit for a growth which was only on paper. I wish the Convention could frame some rule by which such sweeping changes in any one year would be impossible. And I beg the clergy to take more pains in keeping their records. A clergyman who went to a parish recently found that for several years no list of the confirmed had been entered in the parish register, and, as a stranger in the community, he very naturally depended on the list that fell into his hands. On entering a parishioner's home, he asked for the mother of the family, whose name was of record as a communicant, and to his great mortification he was informed that she had been dead several years. This is perhaps an exaggerated instance of careless book-keeping, but if a merchant were as careless with his ledgers, bankruptcy would surely overtake him. It is by law made a part of the Bishop's duty, on his visitation rounds, to inspect the parish registers, but he cannot tell whether the names recorded represent real communicants or not.

The apportionment plan for increasing and systematizing contributions to the general missions of the Church, has been in operation now for more than two years, and, while receipts have increased, it has failed to meet the sanguine expectation of its friends in all respects. I believe the principle is both fair and practical, but it will take some time to get the machinery in good working order. A satisfactory basis of apportionment is not easy to find. Many of the parishes are struggling for bare existence; some are in debt, and find it hard to make ends meet. The Clerical and Lay Deputies in the General Convention had no precedents to guide them in measuring responsibility. They did their very best, but experience has shown the need of revision and amendment. There is dissatisfaction with the present apportionment in certain quarters, and I would suggest that ointment of a committee by this Convention to take the whole matter into consideration, going carefully and thoroughly into details and correcting, as far as possible, the qualities and hardships complained of. This Diocese is doing better than ever before in its contributions for missions, but it is still falling far short of the expectations of the Church. I doubt if the people generally are as well informed as they should be in reference to the extent or needs of our mission work at home and abroad. It is not merely sending a Bishop to Alaska, or Porto Rico, the Philippines or the Sandwich Islands, but it is also sending and maintaining a band of helpers, building churches and schools and hospitals, as well as caring for the work as it grows and needs. The Board of Managers keeps the Church informed, by monthly statements of receipts and expenditures. I am persuaded from large observation that if the clergy would only take pains to keep the lay people informed, the interest in missions would grow and strengthen every year, the small apportionment would be willingly paid, without a murmur or complaint. Try it, brethren of the clergy, and see if I am not right.

The response made by the several Dioceses to the reference of the General Convention, touching the change of name of the Church, was against any change at this time by a large and decisive majority. And yet, when the results are tabulated and published, it will be made manifest to many who felt constrained to vote against any change that they put themselves on record as dissatisfied with the title which the Church is known in law. In the whole discussion of the question there was no name suggested as an alternative that met the popular demand, or that was truly representative of our historic position. The creeds of Christendom are the true exponents of the Church's belief, and their designation of the title by which she has been known through the ages is fixed and settled. Let that suffice. I fail to see how a popular vote, whether for or against a change, is going to affect the growth of the Church very materially one way or the other. At any rate, I assume that for the present, and for a good while to come, the vexed question is practically settled.

The choice of Clerical and Lay Deputies to the next General Convention, which meets in Boston in October, devolves upon this Council at its present session. There are important issues before the Church that require careful thought and study on the part of those who shall be chosen to decide them. The division of the Church into provinces is not a new question, but it has assumed definite shape in the report of a Joint Committee. If the plan proposed shall be adopted, our position will be most satisfactory, for New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania will form an admirable combination, with fifteen Bishops and a large body of clergy and laity. I need not anticipate the discussion which is sure to follow the presentation of the report. But I am sure all must admit that the present province, which contains the whole area of the United States, is unwieldy and growing more so every year. There are some, however, who have grave misgivings as to the effect of breaking up the Church into eight or ten fragments, and thus, perhaps, weakening the unity of the whole. I have no fear of such a result, for the provinces would meet at least once in ten years to legislate for the entire body, just as the Dioceses now meet, by their Deputies, every three years, in our General Convention.

The Canon on divorce and the marriage of divorced persons is sure to come up again for consideration and amendment. The evil has not grown less, but greater, and the menace to the purity of the family is simply appalling. I voutly hope that our Church will put herself so clearly and ongly on record against this terrible and growing evil at there will be no room for doubt as to her position. The preme Court of the great State of New York has refused recognize as lawful any divorce obtained by one party ing to a State or Territory where the laws are lax and ining a divorce on "ex-parte" testimony. Both man and fe must have their residence in the State where the appli-tion is made. It is a righteous decision, and will do much check a vile traffic, which has been encouraged in certain arters for gain.

Organization and co-operation are among the most strikg features of modern civilization. In business affairs we e how men banded together are able to accomplish what dividual effort never could. The bundle of twigs, brought the bedside of a dying father, were easily broken one by ie, but when firmly bound together, the strength of a Sam-n could not bend them. The Church has learned wisdom the children of this world, and is trying to weld closer e various elements that go to make up her life and strength.
uilds and brotherhoods for men and boys, sisterhoods and rious associations for women, are no longer looked upon ith disfavor. Church clubs for men exist to-day in many dioceses, and are, I firmly believe, in every case a source of trength to the Church. Our own Diocese has made a good eginning in that direction. At an informal meeting the ttendance from every part of the Diocese was so large and ncouraging that permanent officers were chosen and a code
f rules adopted. Other meetings will follow at set times n the year and at convenient points, and my hope is that the uspicious beginning will lead to great results. The great bject to be attained in the gathering together of the promnent laymen of the Diocese, is not altogether social, but that they may know each other better, and study together the great social and religious problems of the day, and so be made more intelligent churchmen. The dues are made so small that none may be deterred from joining. I am heartily in sympathy with the undertaking, and I hope great things for it in the future.

The clergy have their neighborhood gathering for social and intellectual purposes, but the laymen, and only a few chosen ones, meet once a year in Convention, and then very hurriedly. The club will supply a missing link in the life of the Church if the effort is wisely controlled and guided. The Bishop of California, in his far-seeing wisdom, has recommended to his Convention the formation of what he calls a "House of Women." Since women are precluded in most of our parishes from voting or holding office, he proposes a separate organization for the women, where chosen representatives may meet, choose their own officers, and manage their own special work in their own way. The Women's Auxiliary to the General Board of Missions has shown how much can be done by organized effort, and yet how few there are comparatively in our several parishes that so much as touch that work with one of their fingers. There are great possibilities in woman's skill and energy, if only all could be interested and enlisted in a common cause. I believe there is a great waste and loss of energy now, because so many are standing idle and there is no power to call them. A truly representative body of women, with freedom to plan and direct, in their special line of work, would prove a great help to missions in this Diocese and everywhere the world over. I do not wish to be understood as speaking or thinking slightingly of what the women are already doing, but I believe there is a more excellent way than the present if we have the courage to seek it out and break with old traditions.

Among the most notable events of the year I count the building of the Edward Clark club-house by the wife of the Bishop of New York, in connection with Grace Church, in this city, but for the benefit of all within its reach, both men and women. The large and beautiful house, built at great cost and thoroughly furnished throughout, cannot be equalled or surpassed by any other in the whole American Church. Ample provision is made for body, mind and soul under one roof. The gymnasium and the social hall, the library and reading-room, the quiet chapel, with its font and altar—all these, and more, seem to leave no lack unsupplied. At the service of dedication, on the evening succeeding All Saints' Day, an enthusiastic throng filled every available spot. Bishop Potter, in his wife's behalf, formally presented the building and made an admirable address, congratulating architect and builders, and the entire community who fill the homes where he, whose name is so worthily commemorated, laid the foundation of his great fortune. The hall in which we are assembled is another illustration of provision made for recreation and work outside the walls of the consecrated Church. St. John's Church, in this city, has recently doubled the capacity of St. Andrew's Mission Chapel, making ample provision for social life and divine worship. Trinity parish has plans and nearly money enough in hand or pledged for the building of a parish house. We are fortunate in having here, under our very eyes, so many object lessons of the Church's new life. In other points throughout the Diocese there are many signs of progress in the same direction, but I would weary you if I attempted an enumeration of them all.

The Convocation of New Brunswick presented a request in the form of a resolution asking the appointment of a Committee on Sunday Schools. I did not act on their suggestion, preferring to bring the matter before the whole Diocese at this Convention for consideration and possible action. We are doing nothing, as a Diocese, in the line of action suggested. We have representatives on the Committee which publishes one set of Sunday-school lessons. Two or three of our clergy have prepared manuals of instruction for the children, and the great body of the clergy are diligent in their training of the young in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. But may we not go farther? No more important question could come before this Convention than the proper training of the lambs of the flock, yet I cannot recall a single instance when such a question has been brought forward and discussed. A Committee, well versed in the latest and best methods of conducting a Sunday-school, might help both clergymen and laymen by making a yearly report. The teaching of the teachers may be just as important as the teaching of the children. Mr. George C. Thomas, one of the very busiest men I know, superintends one of the largest Sunday-schools in the city of Philadelphia, carrying the system and order of the great banking-house into his Sunday work. Everything goes by the tap of the bell. There is no disorder or confusion. There is a definite system of teaching adopted. Classes are carefully graded. The teachers' meeting is held weekly. The power and presence of one master-hand is felt everywhere. A visit to such a model, or an address by such an experienced organizer, would be most helpful. As in duty bound, I bring the subject formally to your attention, and there leave it where it properly belongs, in the hands of the Convention, to take action or not, as you may think best.

I have spoken thus far chiefly of progress and gain. I am very sorry to record several unusual losses during the year. A fierce tornado that swept the New Jersey coast last au turn blew the beautiful Memorial Church of the Holy Innocents, Beach Haven, from its foundations and left it an unsightly wreck. It has been rebuilt, I am glad to say, without cost to the Diocese, and will be ready for occupancy early in the coming June. St. James', Atlantic City, suffered heavy loss by damage done to its church edifice.

St. Peter's-by-the-Sea, Cape May Point, had several times been moved back from the inroads of the waves to what was thought a place of safety, but finally it was found necessary to purchase a new site and remove the church from its perilous position. The task is now completed, and I am glad to say there is no debt remaining.

Trinity Church, Hightstown, has had a very narrow escape from destruction by fire. The brick building, fitted up as a chapel, was formerly used as a bank, and access to the upper floor, where the missionary and his family lived, was by an open outside stairway of wood. This caught fire in the night, and the occupants were cut off from escape. They were finally rescued from the windows by ladders. I am very anxious to get the means for building a small room in the rear, to contain an inside stairway, and make life safer for the aged missionary and his family. The Dean of the Convocation has recently sent out an appeal for help, but thus far the response has been disappointing. Here is an urgent call to some generous heart and open hand to confer a blessing and earn one.

The friends of the late Hal Allaire have determined to make Christ Church, Allaire, his memorial. Mr. William J. Harrison, of Lakewood, the owner of the large estate, has deeded in fee simple to the Trustees of Church Property the church building and as much land as will ever be needed for parish purposes. A committee has in hand the work of repairing and improving the building and laying out the grounds. A goodly purse of gold, given me on my anniversary day, I very gladly bestowed on that mission, where a layman for thirty years maintained a Sunday-school and a weekly service, and was rarely or never absent from his post of duty in all those years. The associate mission supplies the services and the country for miles around the congregation.

There is very general complaint in our own Church, as well as in other Christian bodies, about the falling off in the number of candidates for the ministry. The ordinations will hardly more than make good the losses by death and other causes. There have been but two added to our list of clergy by ordination in the past year, and two more will be added in a few weeks, but that is a beggarly showing for such a Diocese as ours.

There is no dearth of clergy to fill every vacancy, but they are drawn from other Dioceses, and often from the mission field. All my candidates for Priest's Orders, but one, are graduates of college, and nearly or quite half of them are sons of clergymen. Three of them are from Christ Church, Elizabeth.

The Dioscesan records, published in the various almanacs of the year, show that there are thirty of the clergy, canonically resident, who are not engaged in active parochial work. Some of them are temporarily in other Dioceses, but not transferred; some of them are engaged in teaching or other secular callings; some are disabled by sickness or old age. It is a singular fact that nearly one-quarter of the clergy belonging to the Diocese are not engaged in active parochial work within its bounds.

There is a long list of licensed lay readers, some of them, I fear, commended as an empty honor, and others not well equipped for the sacred duty to which they are appointed. There is real need of elevating the office of lay reader by some sort of examination and a formal setting apart with prayer and blessing. The clergy ought to be careful to select only such persons as are competent to fill the place acceptably, and read the service devoutly and intelligently. I have been told by those who heard him, that it was a delight to hear the late Mr. Gladstone read the lessons, as he generally did in the parish church at Hawarden, where his son was the rector. His familiarity with the original tongues of both the Old and New Testaments, and his devout reverence for God's Word, gave the hearer a new conception of its beauty and meaning. Few laymen have had his training as scholar or speaker, but the Church should demand the very best talent for so high an office.

Church building has been practically suspended by the exorbitant cost of material and labor, and many enterprises have been deferred till more propitious times. A church is being erected at Newbold, a mission of the Ascension, Gloucester.

A very pretty morning chapel for Trinity Church, in Trenton, was consecrated on the day after Christmas. It is most tastefully fitted up and furnished. I have already spoken of the beautiful chapel in the Edward Clark club-house, and of the enlarged St. Andrew's Chapel of St. John's Church, in this city. The new hall here speaks for itself. Christ Church, Trenton, has a very spacious guild-room, finished and furnished by a member of the parish as an Easter offering. St. Mary's, Point Pleasant, is rejoicing in a beautiful, sunny home for the rector and his family. St. Andrew's-by-the-Sea, Allenhurst, was consecrated in June. Christ Church, New Brunswick, is putting in a costly organ. All Saints', Trenton, and Holy Trinity, Spring Lake, have new organs. Many parish debts have been reduced or entirely paid off. Memorial gifts in larger number than ever before have been bestowed in various places and in many forms. This beautiful and growing custom of commemorating the names of those who have gone before us, by setting up some permanent mark of affection in the House of God, is in every way to be commended and encouraged. These silent memorials help to assure us of the great truth and reality of the Resurrection, as well as the oneness of God's children.

The material growth of the Church we can see and know and measure with some degree of accuracy, but the spiritual side is known only to God. So far as I am able to judge, every interest of this Diocese, both temporal and spiritual, is in a thriving condition. The business men, chosen to care for the various funds in their hands, give the same conscientious care to their management as if they were their own. Not a penny has ever gone astray, and the Diocese owes very much to that watchful care which is freely given for love of the Church. The confirmations are the largest reported in any one year during my Episcopate, and the Easter communions were never so large.

The gifts of the faithful are steadily increasing. This is especially true of the children. Their Easter offering has become a very important factor in the support of missions at home and abroad. And, best of all, God's children of every name are being drawn closer together with every passing year. The old bitterness of party divisions is a thing of the past, and that unity for which we are praying and longing may come sooner than some of us expect. May God hasten the day of its coming.

There is peace in all our borders, not the peace that reigns in the chamber of death, but the peace born of love and good will, that makes men to be of one mind in a house. The bright rays of the Sun of Righteousness are shining upon us in the splendors of Easter joy and Easter victory. With th first disciples, we are learning the lessons of the great forty days, as we see the Son of God laying the foundations of His kingdom among men and finishing His mission on the earth. Let us not for a moment lose sight of Him, but follow Him to the Mount of Ascension, looking up in love and wonder to the throne where He reigns in majesty supreme. Let us strive to love Him more and serve Him better, so that in all our works begun, continued and ended in Him, we may glorify His holy name, doing more, by the help of His grace, for the saving of our own souls and the souls of our fellow-men, making the world the better for our brief sojourn in it, and leaving a blessing behind us when our work is done and we are called hence.

The deed from John L. Cadwalader and others to the Trustees reported at the last convention, was originally put in trust on the day of April, 1896, to be delivered to the Diocesan Trustees at any time within five years, upon satisfactory evidence that $50,000 have been expended and paid upon a church building or the lot.

This condition has been performed and the deed delivered to the Trustees as reported. Since then the parish named "The Rectory and Vestrymen of All Saints' Church, in Trenton, New Jersey" has requested the Trustees to convey the church and lot to the parish corporation, and the matter has been considered by the Bishop and the Vesting Committee, and also submitted to Mr. John L. Cadwalader. Your Trustees now ask leave of this Convention to comply with the request and convey the property to the parish.

Appendix VII.

CHANGES OF CONSTITUTION AND CANONS.

Title IV, Canon VIII, Sec. 2, of the Diocesan Canons directs, that "When any alteration of the Constitution and Canons is made by the Convention, all such alterations shall be printed as amended in an appendix to the Journal of the Convention, and continued from year to year until such time as a new edition of the Constitution and Canons shall be ordered by the Convention. The appendix shall also show, by a foot-note, in what year the alterations were effected."

CONSTITUTION :

*Add to Article II this clause: Provided, that whenever such day fall in Rogation week the Convention shall be on the following Tuesday.

*Amend Article IV by adding to Sec. 4 the following Sub-Sec. 4:

CANONS :

Sec. 2. Appendix VIII.

CONVOCATION OF BURLINGTON.

DEAN'S REPORT.

In reporting the work of the past year, there are few, if any, changes to need mention. The work which goes on from year to year cannot present many changes that ask for notice. Local modifications of the work, however, do need to be made known, so that you may have a correct impression of the needs and progress of your work.

The same distinctions are to be remembered which I have before stated upon, namely: Convocation Missions and Parish Missions. These, I shall name first the work which is aided by your offerings, at these points I shall take in alphabetical order.

St. Augustine's, Camden, continues its work, and while sometimes may seem to be less encouraging than at others, I am sure the work is done and well done. The congregation is making a great effort to revitalize the church.

Chews, Clementon and Magnolia are under the same care as for a number of years. At Magnolia a lot has been purchased and is being cleared for. Services are regularly maintained and well attended. The parish at Chews in the country can only be expected to minister to a flock which is scattered through the country.

Crosswicks is a village not on the line of travel and under the care of an Associate Mission cannot be expected to report great progress. The church is kept open, and souls are cared for. Should the place improve, it shall be ready to grow also.

Bedford and Pemberton, under the Olden Missionary fund, report good progress during the year. A substantial growth is being accomplished, and an encouraging future opens at both points.

Millville has been closed during a part of the year, but since December, Bridgeton and Millville have been united, and services have been resumed with manifest signs of growth in both places.

Mullica Hill and Paulsboro report great satisfaction with the provision that has been made for them, and your Missionary retains Mantua in his care, and he is encouraged to believe that each place is prospering under his careful work.

Palmyra has been very much unsettled during a part of the year, but of late marked progress is being made. Delair is not connected now with Palmyra, but is independent.

At Dorothy the services have been kept up regularly two Sundays every month, and the interest is still maintained. The future of this point depends very much upon the stability of the colony. While convocation has not furnished the support for this work, the same generous hand that has enabled us to give the people there so much has continued his generosity, and I am grateful for the aid.

Riverside, Fairview and Shedakers continue as for years, and are sustained without cost to the Convocation. The great work which has been done and is now being done in that whole region can be known by those who are personally conversant with the section, while the Master only knows fully how faithfully and well His Truth is being proclaimed.

The resumption of services at Cape May within a few weeks is pleasing to communicate. Ocean City also had regular services during a part of the Spring.

The effort to resuscitate the services at South Vineland did not meet with the response that was hoped for, we regret to report.

Turning from these points of Missionary work, I want to ask your attention to the services which are rendered by the Rectors of parishes in connection with their regular services. Beverly cares for Rancocas; St. Paul's Camden, has two missions in the city of Camden; Gloucester has its thriving Mission, where the corner-stone was laid within a few days; Haddonfield cares for Haddon Heights; Hammonton is looking after Waterford; Merchantville still provides for Maple Shade; Mt. Holly ministers to Columbus; Salem has charge of Penn's Neck, and services have been held in Laurel Springs by the Rector of Gibbsboro.

The field which is committed to our care, and for which we must make provision, requires steady and persistent work. But while sometimes our efforts do not seem to meet with great success, we must ever remember that the value of souls cannot be measured even by our labors or our giving. We must carry the gospel to the people round about us, and if we do our duty in offerings and services, we shall not be without His approval Whose Name we bear.

The statistics of Convocation Mission are as follows: Services—Sundays, 691; other days, 176; total, 867. Baptisms—Adult, 3; infant, 26; total, 29. Pastoral visits, 1769.

The clergy are requested under the Canon to read this report to the congregations under their care.

Respectfully submitted,

C. M. PERKINS, Dean.

CONVOCATION OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

DEAN'S REPORT.

The Dean regrets to report that one of the churches of the Convocation—Trinity, Hightstown—was considerably damaged by a fire which occurred in mid-winter, and which greatly endangered the lives of the Missionary and his family. At the suggestion of the Bishop the Dean sent a circular letter to the parishes of the Convocation asking them to assist in repairing the injury to the building and in making an addition to it, which is much needed; $471—insurance money—are available for the purpose, but a much larger sum will be required. Contributions to the building fund are earnestly solicited. A new local interest in the church at Hightstown seems to have been called out by the fire. In October last the Associate Mission secured the services of the Rev. Martin B. Nash as the General Superintendent of its work, and since taking charge he has been able to give fresh impetus to the work and enlarge somewhat the sphere of its operation. Mr. Nash has devoted much time to searching out new fields of labor, and in some of the places visited he has established the services of the church, while in others he has prepared the way for their introduction, when conditions warrant such entry of the "open door." At Belmar, where the church is open only in the summer months, fifteen resident church families were found to whom no one had ministered for years, and for their benefit winter services were established in a rented hall. Services have also been begun in Pennington, New Orange, Sharon and Newtown. At Trenton Junction services are now held regularly on Sunday nights, instead of week nights as heretofore, and in consequence the attendance has very much increased.

Grace Church, Linden, has again been placed under the charge of the Associate Mission, and since coming under its fostering care there has been a steadily increasing attendance at Church and Sunday-school, and a general revival of interest in the parish.

In Calvary Church, Flemington—under the special charge of the Rev. Mr. Schwartz—various interior improvements have been made, and plans have been secured for the erection of a church tower and a parish guild room. The Rev. Mr. Schwartz gives his Sunday mornings to Flemington, and his Sunday afternoons and evenings to the other Hunterdon County Missions at Clinton, Pittstown and Alexandria.

At St. Uriel's Mission, Sea Girt, the congregation have paid $1,400 on the church debt, and will soon be able still further to reduce their pecuniary due.

Owing chiefly to the efforts of the Bishop a considerable sum has been raised for the restoration of the old church at Allaire. It is proposed to make it a suitable memorial of Mr. Hal Allaire, who for many years took a deep interest in its welfare.

The Dean has before called attention to the large number of Missions which have recently ceased to ask the Convocation for assistance and have voluntarily taken on themselves the burden of self-support. Three more during the year have taken this courageous stand. One is the venerable parish at Piscatawaytown, now fully two hundred years of age. That this old parish should be able to throw aside its crutches and go on its way with free and self-reliant step is a striking instance of the rejuvenescent power of the church, and it encourages us to hope that other parishes which are waxing old may some time thus repeat the vigor of their youth. Another mission which has become independent is St. Mary's, Point Pleasant, which has become an organized parish, with its own rector, the Rev. Mr. Bogert, instituted by the Bishop in January last. This parish has also secured a comfortable rectory during the year.

Holy Trinity, South River, has also broken away from the state of dependence on the Convocation and determined to rely on its own exertions for support. The work at South River had grown so much during the year that the missionary in charge, the Rev. Mr. Reddish, felt obliged to give it his undivided time and attention, and to relinquish the work at Cheesequakes into other hands. This is now in charge of the Rev. Mr. Smith, rector of St. Peter's, Spottswood.

Among the missions served by settled pastors, we note that the prospects at Holy Innocents', Dunellen, are brighter than they were a year ago. There have been a few additions and no removals during the year, and some improvement in the financial condition has been made.

At All Saints', Scotch Plains, good feeling prevails, and all are working toward another payment on the mortgage debt.

At Hightstown a drift seems to have set in toward the church, and the missionary seems much encouraged.

Gratifying progress has been made in some of the missions not under Convocation control, and among these we note that the chapel of St. Andrews, Elizabeth, although twice enlarged, is still too small for the growing congregation, and that St. Paul's, Elizabeth, is also doing useful and expanding work. The prospects at St. Andrew's, Trenton, are very encouraging, and it seems likely that this will soon grow into a self-supporting parish. St. Bernard's, Bernardsville, has begun the erection of a parish hall at Peapack, where a mission has been established by the zealous rector.

A larger number of clergy are laboring in the Associate Mission than was reported last year, and the Mission is well equipped for active and effective work. The laborers are the Reverends Martin B. Nash, Francis P. Willes, Robert M. Beach, Samuel N. Craven, Robert T. Walker, David L. Schwartz, Harris C. Rush and the Rev. B. V. Reddish. The Rev. Edward J. Knight still gives the Mission the deeply interested attention which he has volunteered to it for years.

I add a list of the places served by the Associate Mission during the year: Alexandria, Allentown, Allaire, Belmar, Carteret, Clinton, Crosswicks, Cheesequakes, Edinburgh, Flemington, Glenmore, Little Rocky Hill, Linden, Mercerville, Monmouth Junction, Newtown, New Orange, Pennington, Perth Amboy, Pittstown, Plainfield, Prospect Plains, Rahway, Rocky Hill, Sand Hills, South River, Sea Girt, Sharon, Trenton Junction, Wilbur; also a summary of statistics gathered from the reports of missionaries:

REPORT OF THE NEW JERSEY BRANCH OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

The twenty-ninth meeting of the New Jersey branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions was held in All Saints' Church, Lakewood, Wednesday, April 27th, at eleven o'clock.

In the celebration of the Holy Communion the Bishop was assisted by the Rev. Dr. Jones, of St. Michael's Church, Trenton, and the Rev. Mr. Matthews, of All Saints' Church.

Addresses were made by Bishop Kinsolving, of Brazil, and the Rev. Mr. Mosher, of China, after which the delegates were most hospitably entertained at luncheon by the ladies of All Saints' parish.

At two o'clock the business meeting was held, Mrs. Clark presiding.

Seventeen parishes responded to the roll-call, a very encouraging showing considering the inclement weather and inconvenient train service. The minutes of the last annual meeting, also those of the executive meeting, were read and approved.

The Treasurer's report was read and accepted, after which the following appropriations were made from the Ten Cent Assessment Fund:

Work in Brazil,	$50 00
" " Cuba,	50 00
" " Mexico,	30 40
Indian Missions,	30 00
	$160 40

The Systematic Missionary Fund was, by vote of the meeting, given to the Board of Missions.

The reports of the several Vice-Presidents were presented as follows:

Domestic Missions,	$4,574 94
Foreign Missions,	1,384 18
Indian Missions,	1,339 78
Freedmen Missions,	789 92
Diocesan Missions,	704 03
Mexican Work,	285 00
	$9,077 85

The Junior Auxiliary reported several new branches organized, with increasing interest and results. Total of the Junior work for the year, $975.78, which added to the offerings of the Babies' Branch, $87.20, makes $1,062.98, all included in the above figures.

Report from the tellers, appointed by the President, showed that the ticket as presented by the Nominating Committee had been unanimously elected.

Respectfully submitted,

HATTIE P. TAGGART,

Secretary.

During the severe storm of September 16th, 1903, the church was blown entirely from its foundation into the street. The front part was torn loose from the rest of the building and the tower demolished, the windows and floor-joists broken, and the entire foundation destroyed. Shortly after the church was built, in 1882, an adjoining lot was purchased, making the whole frontage 100 feet. A new and much stronger foundation was immediately built in the centre of this double lot, and the church raised and placed upon it. It will be ready for service by the last of June. The church was a gift from Mrs. Martha A. Parry, in memory of her children in Paradise. The daughter of one of those children is now bearing the whole of the expense of restoration.

valuable auxiliary in our Parish work. We have also a "Girl's Friendly Society," for the larger children of the Parish and for as many outsiders as will come; also a sewing school for the smaller children. In addition, a Chancel Guild, composed of the ladies of the Parish, to take care of the chancel and everything pertaining to it and of the inside of the church, which has added very much to the comfort of the services.

CLERICAL REPORTS.

(For Addresses, see Alphabetical Clergy List.)

THE REV. CHAS. A. BREWSTER.—Since last report I have been very busy and continuously, with the exception of my summer vacation at the North, engaged in mission work in Southern Florida, under direction of Bishop Gray. I have had sole charge for the last two years of two interesting churches—St. Barnabas', at De Lawd, and St. Anthony's, at Orange City. Both of these churches during the winter season have a large number of Northern visitors.

THE REV. FRANCIS D. CANFIELD.—I respectfully would state that during the past Convention year I assisted Rev. Mr. Montgomery up to his nomination of Church of the Epiphany, Pelham, and since occasionally in other churches.

THE REV. F. B. CHETWOOD.—I would respectfully report that during the past Convention year I have continued to act as Secretary to the Board of the Church of the Holy Communion, New York. I have baptized two infants, celebrated Holy Communion in public twenty-two times and in private six times, in all, thirty times. Two of my public celebrations of Holy Communion were in the Chapel of the Sisters of Nazareth, at Priory Farm, Verbank, N. Y. I have also performed the burial office four times.

THE REV. F. B. CROZIER.—As the Canon requires, I beg to report that during the last Canonical year I have been engaged in the duties of my office, part of the time as assistant at Trinity Church, New York, at other occasions doing duty in the Diocese of Long Island.

THE REV. JOHN D. FERGUSON.—For the year just closed I have served as Chaplain of the New Jersey State Soldiers' Home.

THE REV. F. GREAVES.—In compliance with the requirements of the Canon, I would report that during the past year I have held services occasionally, as opportunity has offered, in various parishes, and have also officiated at three funerals and two weddings. I hold myself in readiness for service wherever required.

THE REV. WM. R. HARRIS.—I hereby respectfully report that during the past year I have officiated, as opportunity has offered, at various times both within and without the Diocese. Since January 31st I have been in charge of St. Stephen's Church (Netherwood), Plainfield. Official acts performed are included in the report of that parish.

THE REV. C. W. KNAUFF.—During the past conventional year, for more than four months, I was in charge as locum tenens of St. John's Church, Monticello, New York, while the rector was absent in Europe. After that, for a time, I was officiating at the Church of the Holy Cross, Troy, New York. The performance of literary, editorial duty has continued.

THE REV. LOUIS K. LEWIS respectfully reports that during the past Diocesan year he has officiated every Sunday, his official acts being duly recorded in the churches where he has been engaged.

THE REV. L. H. LIGHTHIPE.—I beg leave to report that during the year ending May 1st, 1904, I have officiated as assistant to the Rev. F. B. Reazor, the rector of St. Mark's Church, Orange, N. J.

THE REV. HASLETT MCKIM.—With the date changed, my last year's report might serve equally well for this year's. That is to say, in the summer I assisted the rector in the services of my former parish—All Saints' Memorial, in the Highlands of Navesink—and during the winter I have been engaged in my duties as one of the instructors in the New York Deaconess School. I have also to report: Baptisms (infant), two, in other Dioceses.

THE REV. W. H. NEILSON.—Since my reception into the Diocese, on November 7th, 1903, I have been occupied most of the time in conducting services and rendering assistance wherever desired. I have conducted twenty-five services, of which five included the administration of the Holy Communion. I have assisted at twenty-seven other services, of which four included the administration of the Holy Communion. Fifty-two services in all, and nine celebrations. I have preached twenty times and made eleven addresses. I have officiated at one funeral. I am ready at all times to render occasional aid or to undertake such permanent charge as I can serve from Plainfield, where circumstances have compelled me to make my home.

THE REV. R. E. PENDLETON.—I have arranged to spend the summer in Colorado, and as a temporary arrangement will take charge of a little parish at Alamosa (Col.) until the fall, when I return East.

THE REV. B. R. PHELPS.—During the Conventional year I have continued as assistant to the Rev. P. W. Stryker, at Riverside, Fairview and Edgewater Park, but as that work has not occupied all my time, I have also taken services in Downingtown and Philadelphia.

THE REV. T. M. REILLY.—The services of St. John's Chapel have been kept up regularly during the year. The congregation have been, for the most part, pupils of St. Agnes' Hall and St. John's Academy.

THE REV. W. BENJAMIN REYNOLDS.—I hereby report that I have been in charge of three missions in the Diocese of Western New York—Lodas Point, Wolcott and Union Hill—during the past year.

THE REV. E. M. RODMAN.—Since my last report I have officiated 129 times, the greater part of which was in Hanover, N. H. last summer, and in Shrewsbury and Little Silver during Lent. In addition to these services, I have endeavored to help my brethren, on various occasions, in Grace Church, Plainfield, and other churches of the Diocese.

THE REV. CHARLES W. SHIELDS, D.D.—I beg to report that during the past year I have performed the duties of professor emeritus of the Harmony of Science and Revealed Religion in Princeton University, and that I have occasionally preached and officiated in divine service.

THE REV. S. P. SIMPSON.—Since my last Convention report I have had very few unemployed Sundays. I have served All Angels' Church, Shinnecock, L. I.; House of Mercy, Inwood, N. Y.; Church Home, Jonestown, Pa., and other places where I was needed.

THE REV. EDWARD H. TRUE respectfully reports that for the past Conventional year he has assisted the rector of Trinity Church, New Rochelle, N. Y., and at times the Archdeacon of New York in the missions of the Bronx.

THE REV. W. H. WYATT-HANNATH, M.D.—I beg to report that for the last three years I have, during the summer, taken occasional services in the Dioceses of New York, Long Island, Connecticut, Newark and New Jersey. During the rest of the year I fulfill the duties which fall to me as professor in the Eclectic Medical College of the city of New York and in my own practice.

One Hundred and Twenty-first

Annual Convention

A. D. 1905.

TITLE I.

CANON I.—SEC. 2.

OF THE TESTIMONIALS TO BE GIVEN TO LAY DEPUTIES.

The certificates of the election of Lay Deputies shall be in the following form:

[Name of the Church, the place and date.]

This certifies that at a meeting of the congregation of this Church, for the purpose of electing Church Officers and Deputies to the Convention (or for the purpose of electing Deputies to the Convention, if the meeting be for that object alone), A. B., C. D., and E. F., being members of the congregation and communicants of the Church, were duly chosen to represent the parish in the Convention for the year ensuing. In testimony of which I have hereunto set my hand (or if the two Wardens subscribe, we have set our hands) the day and year above written.

N. B.—The signature of either the Rector or the Secretary of the Vestry is sufficient. If neither the Rector nor the Secretary signs, then the signatures of both Wardens are necessary. [A Clergyman who is simply a Minister-in-Charge, or Missionary, cannot sign.]

In the case of a congregation organized under Trustees, the certificate may be signed by two Trustees, in lieu of the Wardens.

The Lay Representation is limited to three Deputies, whose names should be carefully and legibly written.

This certificate is to "be transmitted to the Secretary of the Convention AT LEAST TEN DAYS BEFORE THE MEETING OF THE ANNUAL CONVENTION."

In order to secure this, the Secretary will forward a blank form to every Parish, and he earnestly asks the PROMPT attention of the Clergy.

In Article IV, Section 3, of the Constitution, it is provided that "the Deputies, with their alternates, shall be chosen by the Congregation from the male communicants thereof, and no Lay Deputy shall represent more than one Parish."

THE NEXT CONVENTION OF THE DIOCESE OF NEW JERSEY WILL BE HELD, GOD WILLING, IN ST. JAMES' CHURCH, ATLANTIC CITY, BEGINNING ON TUESDAY, MAY EIGHTH, ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND SIX, AT HALF-PAST TEN O'CLOCK A. M.

Mr. Olmsted, the Rev. Mr. Rodman, Mr. B. F. H. Shreve, Mr. H. A. Smith, the Rev. Mr. White, the Rev. Dr. Oberly, the Rev. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Stockton.

Under a suspension of the rules, the following was presented by the Rev. Mr. Moses and unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

Resolved, That before proceeding with the regular order of business the Convention herewith puts on record its deep sense of the loss suffered by this Diocese and the Church at large by the death of Dr. Howard Pugh, who for the past forty-eight years almost continuously participated in the Conventions of the Diocese, and rendered both counsel and official action eminently valuable service. Dr. Pugh was a deputy from St. Mary's Parish, Burlington, to the Convention 1857; he was chosen one of the representatives of the Diocese to the General Convention of 1880, and was re-elected to six successive General Conventions following; he also served for several years as a member of the Standing Committee, and took an active part in the care and management of the Trust Funds of the Diocese. His generous personality and long, faithful, zealous services, deserve most grateful and loving remembrance, and we tender to his bereaved family our sincere, respectful sympathy and condolence.

The Convention then took a recess.

The Rev. Mr. Harding reported as follows:

The Registrar respectfully reports that since taking the office, a year ago, he has received Journals of 1903 from 50 Dioceses and 9 Missionary Jurisdictions; of 1904, from 57 Dioceses and 13 Missionary Jurisdictions, with one Journal for 1902. Besides these, from Bishop Scarborough one copy of "The All-American Conference of Bishops," in 1903. Also from the Secretary, Journal of The General Convention of 1904. I should add that the Journals have come to me mostly through the Rev. Mr. Smith, Secretary of the Convention of New Jersey, and that he has sent out Journals of this Diocese to the registrars of other Dioceses.

He also resigned the office and nominated the Rev. Mr. Nash to be his successor.

The Secretary reported as follows and the appended resolution was adopted:

Secretary respectfully reports that during the past year he has performed the usual duties of his office. Twelve hundred copies of the Journal have been printed and distributed, according to the rule adopted by the Convention. In order that the new Journal may be in the hands of the Convention promptly, he offers the following proposition and urges its adoption:

Resolved, That hereafter Parochial Reports not received within one month from the adjournment of Convention be excluded from the Journal.

HERBERT STANLEY SMITH,
Secretary.

The Rev. Mr. Harding read his annual report as Treasurer of the Christian Knowledge Society.

See Appendix XII.

The Rev. Mr. Knight presented the following, and on his motion the Committee was discharged with the thanks of the Convention:

Convention of the Diocese of New Jersey:

The Committee on the Mutual Insurance of Church Property begs to present the following report:

We have collected a great many facts relative to the matter of insurance on church properties and the cost of the same to the several parishes. These facts have already been reported to Convention in reports of 1899, 1900, 1901 and 1903. We believe them to be of great value in showing the economy of a mutual insurance plan.

In forming of a mutual company, however, there are legal complications with which your committee has no authority to deal; indeed we dissent to the mutual plan on the part of the parishes generally and would form no such company. We are led to believe that the parishes do not care to undertake the mutual method of insurance; and we feel that your committee can take no further steps in the matter.

We have had several conferences with the officers of the Rahway Mutual Insurance Company, a company which has been doing a successful mutual business within the bounds of this State since 1833. This company already has risks on several church properties throughout the Diocese, and would be willing to take others to the extent of $3,000 each; we find that the cost to the insured in this company is about one-half the rate charged by regular line companies.

We make this reference, not to advertise the Rahway company, but to bring the attention of the Convention to a safe and conservative method of mutual insurance operated in our midst. Should the parishes, to any marked degree, co-operate with this mutual company, we are convinced that experience would justify the wisdom of a plan for the mutual insurance of church property.

Your committee respectfully asks to be discharged.

E. J. KNIGHT,
LEWIS PERRINE,
CHARLES TOWNSEND.

The Rev. Dr. Oberley read the report of the Committee on Sunday Schools, and on his motion the following resolution was adopted:

Thirty-first Annual Address of the Rt. Rev.
John Scarborough, D.D., LL. D.,
Bishop of the Diocese.

DEAR BRETHREN OF THE CLERGY AND LAITY:

I deem it both a privilege and a pleasure to greet you in our Annual Council. With every passing year there are changes not a few. As I listened to the roll-call this morning I missed many familiar names. Of the venerable men—both of the clergy and laity—who were with us a generation ago, as counsellors and leaders, few, if any, remain. A new generation has been raised up to fill the vacant places, and do the work as well or better. The Church of God is endowed with perpetual youth. Her ablest and best defenders may be called hence, but her life and work continue without interruption from generation to generation. Notwithstanding our losses by death and removals, the clergy list has grown longer, and the membership has been greatly enlarged. A body of laymen, unsurpassed for conservatism and loyalty, are a tower of strength to the Diocese, which has never been as strong and prosperous as it is to-day. During the past year four of our clergy have been called by death from labor to rest. On the 26th day of August the Rev. Dr. Charles Woodruff Shields, without a moment's warning, was summoned hence. Coming into our Church late in life he did not find himself a stranger. He took deep root, and won the esteem and love of all who came in contact with him. He was essentially a scholar—a man of refined instincts, who appreciated the beauty and order of the Church's worship long before he adopted it as his own.

In less than a month, on September 19th, the Rev. Peter Wilson Stryker lost his life in his effort to save the life of his sister from a rapidly approaching train. Both were killed. Mr. Stryker was one of the little remaining band who welcomed me thirty years ago. He was most gentle and loving, but as firm as a rock in what he deemed his duty. He has left behind him a noble record of missionary work and missionary success in this Diocese, where most of his ministerial life was spent.

In the following month, October 16th, the Rev. Dr. Jesse Y. Burk, long time Rector of St. Peter's Church, Clarkboro, finished his course. I was absent in attendance at the General Convention, and so missed the sad privilege of ministering to his sorrowing family or commending him to God's Holy Care and Keeping. Dr. Burk was a man of wonderful genius, and wide scope of learning in many directions. In scientific research he was an expert, and for many years, in addition to his parochial labors, he found a congenial field for the exercise of his gifts in connection with his duties in the University of Pennsylvania.

Early in the new year, on January 11th, the Rev. Richard Bayley Post, still in the strength of a vigorous manhood, departed this life. His courteous manners and gentle breeding made him many friends, and won favor for him wherever he was known. Though without parochial cure for some time, he was always glad to lend a helping hand to any of his brethren in the ministry.

I can only name a few of the laymen who have died since our last Convention. Edward R. Shubrick, a member of the Standing Committee, and some time Deputy to the General Convention—a communicant and Vestryman of St. Paul's Church, Camden, Richard Kipling, for thirty years Senior Warden of St. Luke's Church, Roselle, and for many successive years a Deputy to this Convention. General Edward A. Donnelly, Senior Warden of Trinity Church, Trenton, a man widely known and greatly honored, both in Church and State. J. Dundas Lippincott, Junior Warden of Trinity Church, Princeton, and a member of this body.

Disposing of his large estate he remembered his parish church with a generous gift. Would that more of those blessed with wealth would copy his example! Miss Alliene Ford, of Somerville, remembered very generously in her will—"the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund" of the Diocese. The exact amount will not be known until the estate is settled. Mr. George Hoffman Embree, a Warden of St. Paul's Church, Westfield, and a very devoted member of the church, was called home—"His sun went down while it was yet day"—indeed, while it was still high noon.

Who gave great promise of usefulness had his life been prolonged. The Rector of St. James' Memorial, Eatontown, laments heavily as one that mourneth for his mother." And the Rev. Mr. Betticher is in great sorrow for the untimely death of his youngest son, who was drowned in one of Nashotah's Lakes while returning after dark from missionary duty in a blinding snow-storm. He was a student at Nashotah. Mrs. George Morgan Hills, who never lost her love for New Jersey, though absent for some years, after her death was laid to rest—her two sons officiating—in the quiet St. Mary's Church-yard, Burlington, by the side of her husband. The widow of the late Dr. Joseph F. Garrison entered into eternal life. Only those who were privileged to know her well were aware of the many gifts and graces she possessed.

The Diocese has suffered heavy loss by the recent death of Dr. J. Howard Pugh, Senior Warden of St. Mary's Church, Burlington, for many years a member of this body and honored by every gift it had to bestow—a Deputy to the General Convention, a member of the Standing Committee, a Trustee of the Episcopal Fund, and serving faithfully on the most important Committees of the Diocese. For all the years of my Episcopate Dr. Pugh has been among my closest personal friends. Intimately associated together in the conduct of affairs in St. Mary's Hall, I early learned to know his worth as a man of clear judgment, wise in counsel, but, above all, a man of beautiful life and character that drew many friends to him. He filled a large place in the Diocese and he will be sorely missed by many who knew and loved him, but by none, outside of his immediate family more than by his Bishop.

Three Bishops have died during the past year, all of them trained and nurtured till mature manhood in other bodies. Bishop Huntington, of Central New York, lived and breathed the subtil atmosphere of New England Unitarianism for all the earlier years of his life and ministry. Bishop McLaren, of Chicago, served acceptably as missionary and pastor in the Presbyterian ministry before coming to us. Bishop Watson, of East Carolina, received his early training outside of our Church, being a lawyer in early life. Coming to us from such opposite extremes, they accepted and taught loyally the church's system of doctrine and truth. Bishop Huntington wielded a graceful pen, and has helped many through their struggles and doubts. It was my privilege to know Bishop McLaren intimately, as he spent his summers on the New Jersey coast, where we were often thrown together, and I have rarely known a man who had a clearer grasp of truth. Bishop Watson was for many years chairman of the Committee on Canons in the House of Deputies of the General Convention. He has been disabled by sickness for a good while, and only recently a coadjutor was consecrated.

While the Church mourns these and like losses, there is no slackening of efforts and no pause in her work. The extension of the Episcopate is among the surest signs of hope and promise. Since my own consecration thirty years ago, the number of Bishops at home and abroad has nearly or quite doubled, so that there are one hundred to-day in active service. Some may think it a waste or an extravagance to place a Bishop in the smallest missionary district, but experience has proved the wisdom of the policy. An occasional visit from some neighboring Bishop for confirmations and ordinations will never give strength or permanency. The Missionary Episcopate is the brightest spot in the history of the American Church during the past half century. Who would venture to say that it was a waste to send young Tuttle, now the Presiding Bishop, to Montana and Utah to lay foundations single-handed, without even one to help him? Or who would begrudge the cost of sending Bishop Rowe to far-off Alaska because the population is sparse and a portion of it sunk in heathenism? A very striking illustration of the value of the Bishop as a pioneer is furnished by our experience in Mexico. For years a most estimable Presbyterian—faithful, competent and devoted—had charge of the work, under the Presiding Bishop, but when he was called to his rest very little remained in the way of permanent results. The Committee on Foreign Missions, of which I was a member and its chairman, in the last General Convention, determined to suggest a radical change of policy, making Mexico a missionary district of this Church and sending a Bishop of our own appointing to do the work. Now, what is the result? In the few months of the Bishop's residence in his new field he has found a large body of English and American churchmen in the City of Mexico to bid him welcome, and in not a few of the mining towns in the interior he has found many who are willing and glad to co-operate with him in the founding of churches and chapels. The same thing has been found true in the Philippines, Honolulu, Costa Rica and Cuba.

It is, of course, generally known throughout the Church that "The American Church Missionary Society" has transferred its missions in Cuba and Brazil to the General Board. This was done, I can testify, not because of failure or lack of interest, but because of a strong desire to unify the work of missions and economize in central expense. All funds will be turned into a common treasury, and predict there will be no falling off in receipts. The American Church Missionary Society is a corporation, and holds certain funds in trust, so that it cannot lawfully cease to be. The change was brought about without friction and with very general assent on both sides. I think it marks a new day—and a great advance for the cause of missions everywhere—and, therefore, I greatly rejoice. Every foot of territory belonging to the United States is now under the care of a Bishop. Even the canal zone on the Isthmus of Panama has been placed in the care of the Presiding Bishop, who has arranged with the Bishop of Honduras to continue his oversight for the present until affairs are definitely settled.

The General Convention that met in Boston last October has already passed into history. Its doings are spread before the Church, and it might be safe to assume that all are familiar with them. Still I venture to emphasize certain salient points that deserve special consideration. There has been set forth what is practically a new con-on and a new code of canon law. What has been for many years demanded is at last an accomplished reality, namely a Court of Review, for the decisions of Diocesan Courts, and a Court of Trial, as well as a Court of Review, in the case of Bishops. The five Dioceses in the City of New York, the two Dioceses in the State of New Jersey and the Missionary District of Porto Rico are grouped together as one division, and much against my

I was made President of the Review Court within the boundaries named. I have never been clamorous for Courts of Appeals, because I believe, as a rule, the decisions of Diocesan Courts are fair, in accordance with the facts, and to all concerned. I do not believe you could choose Presbyters in this or in any other Diocese who would otherwise than fairly with a brother Presbyter, or in a verdict of guilty unless the proven facts in the case compelled them so to do. The new court is not for re-trial, but only a review, to determine whether the canons of law have been strictly followed and the alleged charges clearly proven. No new evidence can be admitted. Diocesan Courts will be more careful as they realize the possibility of review. And so the new code may help rather than hinder the cause of right and justice. Every clergyman should provide himself with a copy of the revised canons, and study their provisions with care. In my judgment the completion of the Commission's work, after many years of study, will be counted by the Church among the most important acts of the Convention.

Changes will not be needed for many years to come, and precious time can thus be gained for matters of greater importance. It is becoming more and more evident that the Houses of the Convention are unwieldy and cumbersome, and legislation more and more difficult. This is very manifestly so in the popular branch. And the only remedy I can see is either Provinces or a diminished representation from the Dioceses. A good deal of time is wasted in discussions that are not always helpful nor edifying, but as a rule it is the silent, thoughtful men that give shape to the legislation. The Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, presiding over a small body of men in the Capital City, whose word can make or unmake laws and whose authority is above that of President or Legislators, sat in the great Council a silent listener, whose power was felt in the committee room rather than on the rostrum and whose skillful touch did so much for the shaping and moulding of the law just referred to.

The presence of the Archbishop of Canterbury added a popular feature never before enjoyed by any General Convention. Some of the statistics gathered are of great value as indicating the Church's life and growth. The clergy number between five and six thousand. The communicants are over eight hundred thousand. The offerings for all purposes in three years amount to over forty-seven millions of dollars! The gains of the clergy list have not kept pace with the growth of membership. The list of candidates for Holy Orders does not grow as fast as the Church's needs. Explain the fact as you will, other avenues in life present greater attractions than the ministry to the young men of this day. As a class the clergy are poorly paid. If you will take the pains to look carefully through our own Convention Journal you will be surprised to find that a large majority of the clergy are living on a salary ranging from $500 to $1,000 per annum. Outside of the larger cities the last named sum is the maximum. While the cost of living has almost doubled in the last quarter of a century, salaries, except in rare instances, remain stationary.

In the older Dioceses, like our own, there will be no dearth of clergymen, but our supply, if not provided here at home, must come from the mission field, or from struggling parishes in other Dioceses, that can ill afford to lose them.

This problem is fundamental, and it ought to move us to more earnest prayer that the Lord of the harvest may send forth the laborers, as well as give us the increase to be gathered. The apportionment plan of gathering money for missions has been in operation now for three years. It has not done all that some of its most ardent advocates hoped and promised, but it is a great deal better than the old, haphazard method of former years. It distributes the obligation very fairly. The share asked from this Diocese is $13,200, or sixty-nine cents for every communicant. That should not be a heavy burden to carry, and yet we have not once met the expectation of the Church. It is hard to find a standard that will please everybody and work no seeming inequality to any. The present plan of apportionment to the parishes seems as fair as any that can be devised. The weak point in the working out of the plan is this: All parishes are treated exactly alike and apportioned on the same basis. Some will deem it a matter of honor not to fall short. They will be well satisfied if they can raise the amount expected of them, and some, like Gallio of old time, will care for none of these things, and will make no effort to interest themselves or others in the great cause of missions, and so you can see that there is likely to be a wide chasm between the sum asked as our quota and the sum raised. I hope, therefore, that some of our strong parishes will give more than their share and so help to cover up the losses that are pretty sure to come in other quarters.

I doubt if either the clergy or laity realize the vast expansion of our mission work in the last decade, both at home and abroad, and the correspondingly large increase of offerings needed to carry it on successfully. A million dollars a year is not an extravagant figure to meet the growing demands of the Board of Missions. In business ventures that sum would not sound so large. For the honor of the Diocese and for the up-building of Christ's kingdom let us each strive to do our very best, and the result will surprise us. By all working together, the work will seem an easy task. It was suggested at the late General Convention that the Church be asked to make a thank offering for the three centuries of blessings that have passed since the landing at Jamestown, Virginia, of the little company that founded the Church on this continent in the year 1607. The next Convention will meet in Richmond, near the place where the infant Church was planted and nurtured, and it is hoped that the men of the Church will make a generous offering at the opening service, as the women have done now for many years. The matter was referred to the Board of Missions, to formulate a plan for carrying out the resolution, and the Board has appointed a committee of three, who, in turn, make a strong appeal to the Bishops and Rectors of parishes to co-operate with them in a united effort to reach every layman in the Church. In accordance with their suggestion, I have requested the chosen Deputies from the Diocese to aid the representatives of the Board of Missions in making the effort a success. I confidently make an appeal to the clergy of this Diocese to further in every way an effort so worthy of confidence and support. The rich field here unworked and untouched that will yield a goodly harvest if the laymen of the Church—ever can be made to take an interest in making the plan

The past year has not been fruitful in the way of church building. There has been but a single addition to the list of churches and chapels—St. Luke's Chapel, at Newbold, a mission of the Church of the Ascension, Gloucester, which was opened and blessed on the 6th day of July last. It is free of debt, plain but churchly inside and outside, and is proving itself a fruitful vine, having furnished already fourteen candidates for confirmation and a goodly number of children for Holy Baptism. It is under the direct care of the Rector at Gloucester and does not cost the Diocese a penny. Beside this most promising mission work, the church building at Gloucester has been greatly improved and beautified, and is making plans for enlargement to meet the demands of a growing congregation.

The building of small churches or chapels where the population is sparse and little or no hope of growth in the future, is, I am convinced by experience, very often a mistake. The support of services will either become a permanent tax on other portions of the Diocese, or the closed door will be a reproach which all will keenly feel. There have been very few ventures made in this Diocese that have proved to be mistakes, and yet I regret to confess that there have been a few failures, where building was hasty and premature, based on a zeal that was superficial, or on hopes and promises that were never realized, and the money so expended might have done more good elsewhere. I am glad to commend the present policy of the Associate Mission in this respect. They hold services in private houses, in school-houses, or public halls, and in more than one instance the house of the fire engine of the town is secured at small cost as a place of worship. The church building, if it comes at all, must come in response to a demand that can show both strength and interest on the part of the people themselves. The mission that is the outgrowth of healthy parish life stands on the surest and safest foundation, because it is apt to have strong personal backing, as well as a wise choice of location with reference to its future usefulness. Many of our strongest parishes were so founded. The ease with which one can travel long distances at small cost in this day makes the multiplication of churches in sparsely settled portions of the country no longer a necessity, but often a waste of energy and means. Even in our largest cities consolidation, rather than expansion, is becoming the law of necessity. Strong centres, rather than weak outposts, are found to be most desirable. I do not wish to be understood as either depreciating or undervaluing the little mission chapels in the hamlet or the open country. The changed condition of things, however, makes them less a necessity than they once were, and the fact that they are not multiplying is no sign that the Church is either decaying or losing ground.

The changes of population are often a severe test of endurance to the little, struggling mission church or chapel, and it is becoming more and more difficult to furnish the men and the means for weak places that might find pastoral care at less cost in some near-by and well-established parish, though at some inconvenience in getting to and from.

Our strength and growth in the past year are to be found chiefly in parish betterments, and in the increased facilities for work. Let me enumerate, as briefly as I can, some of these signs of the life and growth of the Church in this Diocese on its material side. The spiritual side no human arithmetic can count! St. James' Church, Atlantic City, is about to encase its wooden building with stone, and thus, not only add strength and beauty, but save the great expense of painting and repairing, which a wooden building the sea constantly demands. The Church of the Ascension has greatly reduced the indebtedness remaining on Saints' chapel, Chelsea, by the offerings of those worshipping in it. St. Augustine's, for colored people in the city, has made great strides in the past twelve months. It has become an incorporated parish, strong and self-sustaining. Forty persons have been presented for confirmation, a new organ has just been added at considerable cost, and enlargement of the place of worship is an imperative demand. A new mission has been started in Pleasantville, a suburb of Atlantic City, with good promise of speedy growth. St. Mark's, Hammonton, has built a parish-house brick, both large and convenient, though not yet entirely finished or furnished. Christ Church, Waterford, disused almost a ruin for some years, has been restored and opened for divine service. The town, once a thriving center of business, resembled Goldsmith's picture of the deserted village. There are now signs of returning life that warrant the revival of the church, and the Rector of St. Mark's, Hammonton, seven miles distant, has voluntarily undertaken to conduct the services, with the help of his young Men's Guild.

Trinity, Vineland, has taken on new proportions since Mr. Perkins entered upon his duties as Rector. Property adjoining the church has been secured, and enlargement is very fast becoming a pressing necessity. The Rectory has been re-modeled and improved at considerable cost. Both Vineland and Millville are both served from Trinity, Vineland.

St. John's, Salem, has a new Rector and a new house for the Rector to live in. The old parsonage was sold, and gifts in money added to the price the vestry were able to secure the beautiful home of the late Senior Warden.

St. Thomas', Glassboro, has taken on new life. The Rectory has been almost rebuilt, the church made more beautiful and visions of a much needed parish house are in the minds of the people.

Christ Church, Woodbury, marked its semi-centennial by opening anew its church building, greatly improved and beautified. Eligible sites have been secured at Haddon Heights and Magnolia waiting for funds to accumulate for buildings. A mission, but recently begun at Laurel Springs, gives great promise of success.

St. John's, Chews Landing, has a group of missions in a radius of five miles, all cared for by the Rector, and all little more than feeble beginnings. The Church of Our Saviour, Camden, has greatly suffered by frequent changes in the Rectorship and by an accumulation of debt. I am trying my best to save the property and restore prosperity to the parish. If the present Rector does not lose heart, and give over trying, I count certainly on winning. It grieves me to think of the possibility of the church deserting her post and leaving her children without a fold and without a shepherd.

St. Augustine's, Camden, our colored mission, has a very neat and well furnished church awaiting consecration at an early day. St. John's, Camden, has been re-decorated, and the fine new organ continues to give satisfaction and pleasure. St. Paul's, Camden, still bears the palm, supporting two parish missions and lending a helping hand to St. Augustine's, as well as contributing to the funds of Convocation. On the Feast of the Ascension, May 12th, I consecrated the Church of the Holy Trinity, Delair, the Rev. R. G. Moses, a former pastor, preaching the sermon.

Christ Church, Riverton, has paid the indebtedness on its parish-house, and has made a good beginning of an endowment fund. St. Stephen's Memorial Church, Riverside, as I have already stated, met with a terrible calamity in the death of its founder and only pastor. The church and parish house are memorials of George and Mary Kirkham, of Beverly, built by a surviving sister, who is still a generous benefactor of the work. A parish has been organized and incorporated, and in connection with Trinity, Fairview, a Rector has been called, and what was a few years ago but a feeble mission is now a strong and self-sustaining parish. Enlargement of both church and parish-house is almost assured. The remaining mission of the group so long under the care of the Rev. Mr. Stryker, the Chapel of Our Redeemer, Shedaker, is now a part of the pastoral care of St. Mary's, Burlington. The Rector of St. Stephen's, Beverly, ministers to the little flock at Rancocas most faithfully and acceptably. Thus far I have noted only what concerns the Convocation of Burlington. In places and parishes not named there are signs of life and vigor not a few, but I would weary you if I attempted to do more than note the changes for the better that mark the year just past. In the bounds of the Convocation of New Brunswick the record is equally as bright and cheering. St. Michael's, the mother church of the City of Trenton, is contemplating large improvements for the celebration of its bi-centennial next year. When the present Rector of Trinity Church entered upon his duties there was an indebtedness facing him of more than seventeen thousand dollars. By good business tact and by the generous co-operation of the people of the parish this large debt was reduced to ten thousand dollars. Mr. Henry C. Kelsey gave his cheque for this sum as a memorial of his deceased wife, and freed the parish from its heavy burden. Large improvements are in contemplation during the coming summer. When St. Paul's, Trenton, built its parish house some years ago a debt of three thousand dollars remained. This has now been reduced to a little more than one thousand by legacies and offerings.

The enlarging of Christ Church left an unpaid balance, which the Vestry met by a note in bank, on which they personally paid the interest. By a recent effort on the part of the people the debt has been nearly extinguished, and the balance still remaining is only a trifling sum. Grace Church owes no man anything but the debt of love. It has a large congregation in a part of the city that needs the ministrations of the Church. All Saints' has its fine stone church paid for and only owes a balance—and a small balance at that—on its new pipe organ. St. James' owes four hundred dollars on land and buildings, and St. Andrew's about two thousand. Thus, instead of thirty thousand dollars and more, as the debt stood but a few years ago, three thousand dollars would free from debt the seven church buildings, a mission chapel, five parish-houses and four rectories—not a bad showing! I have already referred to the legacy of twenty-one thousand dollars—free of all taxes—left to Trinity Church, Princeton, by the last will of Mr. J. Dundas Lippincott, for many years a Warden of the parish. This sum is specifically designated as an endowment. The question of enlarging the church building is a perplexing one. The present structure, perfect in its proportions, might be very easily marred or spoiled. The student body, during the greater portion of the year, is large, and there is barely room for those who are constantly in attendance the year through. The young men of the St. Paul's Society, who are licensed as lay readers, care for the near-by missions at Rocky Hill, Sand Hills and the Basin. On the 12th day of July I consecrated St. Paul's Church, Monmouth Junction.

The sermon was preached by the Rev. Thomas A. Conover, who founded the mission. It was a day of joy and rejoicing to the little band of faithful people. Christ Church, New Brunswick, has replaced the old, worn-out organ with a superb new instrument. The work of restoration at Allaire has been completed—as Mr. Hal Allaire's memorial—and the old church is beautiful in its new dress. There is a good Sunday-school and the Associate Mission cares for the services. Holy Innocents', Beach Haven, that I reported last year as wrecked by the Winter storms, has been entirely rebuilt and dedicated anew. Miss Hilger, a granddaughter of Mrs. Parry, who built the church as a memorial, met the entire cost of re-building. St. Mary's-by-the-Sea, Point Pleasant, has a new tower and bell. The chancel has been enlarged and beautified. The Rector has held cottage services all Winter at Bay Head. Trinity Church, Cranford, is rich in memorial gifts—altar and reredos, credence-shelf and chancel rail, choir-stalls and Rector's chair and desk, all quartered oak; font cover and carpet for the entire church. Beside this, the Ladies' Guild has a goodly sum of money in hand for the building of a parish-house. Mr. Alfred Mills, the donor of the present site of St. Paul's Church, Westfield, has recently increased his gift by deeding additional land for a parish-house and rectory. The mortgage debt of the parish has been reduced and there is money enough in hand to warrant the early building of a parish-house.

A little more than a year ago Trinity Church, Hightstown, suffered loss by fire. It was thought best not to rebuild the outside stairway, and an addition was necessary in order that the stairs might be under cover. The work cost more than the estimate, as such work generally does. The amount of insurance was small, and the question of payment became rather a serious matter. Let me here offer the thanks of the Dean and myself to those who came forward to help us. I am glad to report that every claim is settled and the mission is free from debt. The city of Elizabeth continues to hold its place of relative pre-eminence in the Diocese, as well as in the Church at large. The recent confirmations have been: Christ Church, fifty-two; St. John's, fifty-five, and Grace Church, eighty-five. Trinity will be visited in the autumn, the postponement being made necessary because the church building has been for many months in the hands of mechanics, undergoing extensive changes and enlargement. In the imposing interior one would hardly recognize the Trinity Church of the past. There seems to be nothing lacking that good taste and money could provide. Adjoining the church, and connected with it by a cloister, a commodious parish house has been erected large enough for all the activities of the present and for many years to come. On the sixth Sunday after Epiphany both church and parish house were formally opened for use. St. John's has recently cancelled its entire indebtedness. St. Luke's, Roselle, under new impulses and renewed zeal, has made a good beginning on its building fund. It is hoped that before very long a substantial church edifice will be erected on the beautiful site that is waiting for it.

At Garwood the Rector of All Saints', Scotch Plains, has made a good beginning. An eligible site has been secured and the erection of a modest chapel will follow soon.

I need only call your attention to the marked advancement in the parish whose guests we are to-day. The parish house in course of erection and well on toward completion will be a great boon to the many active agencies here.

employed. Besides these signs of growth and prosperity in temporal things, I deem the effort that is being made for the betterment of the spiritual condition of the large colored population of great importance. There are now four colored clergymen at work in this Diocese, besides a mission of Christ Church, Shrewsbury, among the colored people, and so I am glad we are doing something toward the solution of a great national problem.

The venerable parish of St. Peter's, Perth Amboy, is on the eve of beginning a much needed improvement by lengthening the chancel and adding organ chamber, choir room and sacristy. St. Bernard's, Bernardsville, is enlarging the church building, which the congregation has outgrown, and adding a new Rectory at large cost. At Peapack, a mission of St. Bernard's, a commodious and substantial hall has been erected which provides a decent place for worship, as well as for recreation—a centre of social and intellectual life for the entire community.

Trinity Church, Asbury Park, has a goodly sum laid by for a new church, only waiting for additions to make the fund large enough to build without incurring debt. St. Andrew's, Lambertville, is also laying by money for a parish-house, a memorial of the late beloved Rector, the Rev. Elvin K. Smith. St. George's Memorial, Helmetta, has funds in hand for cancelling its bond to the Episcopal Fund.

I have passed over many signs of growth and progress beside those I have here named, but enough has been said, I trust, to show that there is advance all along the line. It is made the duty of the Bishop by Canon to lay before the Convention a statement of the condition of the Diocese, and this I have ventured to do at more length than usual, that both clergy and laity may know the facts which are familiar to me. Not in a spirit of boasting, but with thankfulness to Him who alone can give the increase, do we thus venture to count up the blessings of the past year.

It is a fact hard to explain or understand that the offerings for missions in the Diocese are less than they were a quarter of a century ago. The need is not less nor the opportunities fewer, and I cannot think our methods of doing missionary work are to blame for the falling off.

The children of the Church have become an important element of strength, especially in sustaining the work of missions. Their Advent and Lenten offerings are now counted by the hundred thousand. I am very grateful to the Sunday-schools of this Diocese for the Advent offerings given to me now for many years for special work. I do not report these gifts to the Convention for the reason that they might thus be counted twice. I make acknowledgment of them by circular letter so that all can see and know how much I have received and to what use their gifts are put.

The Church Club, composed of laymen of the Diocese, has made a good beginning, and has had a fairly prosperous year. Several meetings have been held, and most interesting addresses made, mostly by laymen, on topics touching the life of the Church. We have no one commanding centre of life and interest as so many Dioceses have, and so the club has tried to accommodate its members by meeting in different places. Time will prove whether or not this is best for the interest of all concerned. I appeal to the men of the Diocese to support this venture by joining and attending the meetings at the cost of some inconvenience to themselves. The sense of brotherhood and the opportunity of meeting socially on common ground, as well as knowing each other personally, all this will help to unify and strengthen the life and sentiment of the Diocese. The neighborhood clericus and the quarterly meetings of Convocation have been instrumental, I am sure, in binding the clergy more closely together. Why should not the laymen do as much?

On the 2d of February last, as most of you know, I completed thirty years as Bishop of the Diocese. Many of the clergy and laity came to bring me greetings and good wishes, and to mark the anniversary by a special gift. My term of office has thus been lengthened beyond that of any of my predecessors. The sum total of fifty-nine years measures the combined serving of my predecessors in office, and my term of service covers more than half that length of time. Among the chiefest of God's mercies to me I count length of days, beyond the limit set for most men, and undiminished ability to meet the duties of every day.

It may help us to note, not in pride, but with thankfulness, the growth of the Diocese by comparing its present condition with that of the entire State before division. The Journal of 1874 reports 144 clergymen, including the Bishop. We have now 125 canonically resident and several who are laboring in the Diocese licensed by the Bishop.

Confirmations in the entire State were 1,412; ours last year were 1,245. Total of communicants reported, 12,116; ours last year, 19,118. Contributions, $441,500; ours, $356,440. Thus, in nearly every item that shows strength, we are not far behind the showing made before the State was divided into two bands, and in some things greatly in advance of that period. But it is not enough to have done well for part of the way—"Our eyes were set in our forehead that we may always look before us, never behind us." There is very much land still to be occupied. Our task is not nearly finished. Let us face the future bravely, and strive manfully to meet its possibilities.

And He who hath enabled us to do great things already for the up-building of His Church and Kingdom will neither leave us nor forsake us.

Appendix VIII.

CONVOCATION OF BURLINGTON.

DEAN'S REPORT.

The Cannon requires a report giving the "condition, needs and progress in detail" of the Missions of the Convocation. To do this very fully would require more time than can be given to it, and it would weary those who are to listen to it. But still, we must try to interest all in this work which belongs to every individual member of the Church within the limits of the Convocation.

There have been few, if any changes in the working force of the Missionaries of Convocation. The death of Rev. P. W. Stryker removed one of our number, who had been doing the most important sort of missionary work for years, but as the work had been sustained by one generous person, we did not number him among our Convocation Missionaries.

The work at St. Augustine's, Camden, continues to prosper, and good work is being done.

The Missionary at Chew's Landing still adds to his labors the care of Magnolia, Clementon and West Berlin. Naturally, the growth must be slow, but it grows and lives.

The Associate Mission supplies Crosswicks which does not increase in population or strength. But we must hold fast the things that we have.

At Pemberton and Medford, the Missionary on the Olden Fund finds his work most encouraging and prosperous.

The work in Pausboro and Mullica Hill has the same care as for some years now, and Mantua also has the same Missionary. Renewed interest is shown at the latter place.

At Palmyra, the continued success of the work holds out the hope that they can soon relinquish our aid and become self-sustaining.

Beginning with January, Bridgeton asked for a separation from Millville, and called to the Rectorship the one who had been ministering among them for over a year. We promised to aid them for one year in their laudable efforts.

This left Millville again alone. After full deliberation, it was determined to place Millville under the direct personal supervision of the Dean, and the parish called him to the Rectorship. The intention is for the Dean to secure a curate to work under him, with especial oversight of Millville and other points. It is hoped that the best interests of the work will be advanced by this move.

The work of the late Rev. Mr. Stryker has been changed by the separation of Shedaker's from the Riverside part of the work, and this one place given to St. Mary's, Burlington, for care. At Riverside, a parish has been organized, a Rector called, and, in conjunction with Fairview, the work is continued with new energy and encouragement.

The missions that are sustained by parishes without Convocation aid, are as follows:

Shedaker's, by St. Mary's, Burlington; Columbus, by St. Andrew's, Mt. Holly; Rancocas, by St. Stephen's, Beverly; Haddon Heights, by Grace, Haddonfield; Waterford, by St. Mark's, Hammonton; Laurel Springs, by the rector of Gibbsboro; Westville, by the Ascension, Gloucester; Maple Shade, by Grace Church, Merchantville; South Vineland, at present by Trinity, Vineland; St. Paul's, Camden, has its two parish missions; St. George's, Penn's Neck, has not had regular clerical services since July first, but the Warden has kept up the services regularly, and they hope now soon to have the care of a clergyman; Dorothy was unsupplied for several weeks, but now they will have regular services again. In detail at these different points I note, the completion of the Church at Westville; at Laurel Springs they are about to select a location for a church.

At Cape May, the Church of the Advent has been open regularly under the care of Mr. F. H. Finn, from the Divinity School in Philadelphia, who also has a Sunday School in West Cape May.

A very important work has been begun by Rev. Dr. Spaulding, at Pleasantville, and parts adjacent. This is cared for without cost to us.

There are a number of small points where missionary work is being done by clergymen on small salaries, but who labor on earnestly and successfully as Rectors, but they are really missionaries and are doing mission work.

Openings are far greater than means, and I can only point out the work to be done. It is yours, and upon you must rest the responsibility. If our income could be doubled, we should not be able to do the work.

The statistics for the year are: Sunday services, 1,062; other days, 474; total, 1,536. Baptisms—Infants, 46; adults, 13; total, 59. Pastoral visits, 2,647.

Respectfully submitted,

C. M. PERKINS.

Appendix IX.

CONVOCATION OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

DEAN'S REPORT.

Missionary history repeats itself from year to year, and there are few particulars of unusual interest in the Chapter of it which the herewith presents to view. Some bright threads have been woven in the thread of the story, and several of our Missions are in better condition, spiritually and financially, than they were a year ago. There has been a large increase in the number of baptisms, a considerable increase in the number of confirmations and communions, and a marked improvement in the attendance on the Sunday Services in various places within our bounds. In the course of the year the Associate Mission suffered the loss of several of its working staff, and it has found some difficulty in filling the vacancies thus created; but it is hoped that there will be no permanent diminution in the number of its staff. There are now included in it the Rev. Martin B. Nash, the Rev. Robert F. Walker, the Rev. Samuel N. Craven, the Rev. Herbert W. Brueninghausen, and the Rev. R. A. Smith. Two more names will soon be added to the list, and plans are on foot for a very considerable enlargement of the sphere of missionary operation during the coming year. The Mission is anxious that its work should be of a lasting and solid character, and it devotes itself chiefly to places where there is some prospect of permanent result.

Two Missions have been relieved from the burden of debt which was laid upon them at the time of our last report. One is St. Paul's Church, North Junction, the lien upon which was paid last Summer, thus making the Church eligible for consecration. On July 12th the Church was consecrated by the Bishop in the presence of a number of the clergy.

The other is Trinity Church, Hightstown, the debt on which of more than $1,000 was incurred in the repairs and additions to the building rendered necessary by a disastrous fire. That we were able to pay this debt is largely owing to the liberality of a few individuals and parishes in the Diocese.

There are a number of parishes in the Diocese which the Association has prepared for independence and self-support, and the last of these is St. Stephen's, Netherwood, the charge of which was given to the Mission after it had fallen into a very low and languishing condition. The Mission sent the Rev. Mr. Peck to recover, if possible, its lost prosperity, and through his efforts its scattered flock was soon gathered together, and new life was thrown into all branches of the work. Quite naturally the Rev. Mr. Peck has been chosen as the Rector. At the Bishop's visitation fifteen were confirmed.

The renovation of the church at Allaire has been completed, and the services, now regularly held, are well attended. Another class for confirmation will soon be ready.

Various improvements have been made in the Church of the Holy Cross, Perth Amboy, among them the putting in of a new furnace and electric light. The Sunday-school has more than doubled.

At the Church of the Holy Comforter, Rahway, the Sunday-school is three times its former size, the attendance at services is largely increased and the financial condition is much improved. There really seems to be a bright outlook for this church.

At Clinton, Hunterdon county, a suitable place of worship has been secured, and here services are now held twice a month. The attendance is very cheering to the missionary.

Pittstown, a village of 400 souls, also in Hunterdon county, has no church building of any kind. Services are held in the town hall once a month, on Sunday nights. If we could build a church there and provide weekly services we would probably win the whole community. As it is we can do little.

At Calvary, Flemington, the congregation is growing. A Sunday School has been started, and the prospects seem brighter than for some years past.

At the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Plainfield, there has been very gratifying progress. Finances have improved, the attendance has increased, and a number of parochial organizations have been put in operation. The Rev. Mr. Rush, formerly in charge here, has now become Rector of Grace Church, Linden, which severed its connection with the Associate Mission on March 1st.

The Mission has again become responsible for services at Matawan, Sea Girt, Allaire and Belmar. At Belmar services are held in a hose house in a central situation, and the attendance is five times larger than it was before.

At Cartaret a confirmation class will soon be presented.

A Mission has recently been established at Garwood with quite encouraging results. The Rev. Mr. Mulford is in charge.

Funds have been provided for a much needed repair of St. Barnabas Church, Sand Hills, and this work will soon be begun.

Holy Innocents', Dunellen, the attendance has not much increased, the financial conditions have steadily improved.

All Saints', Scotch Plains, interior improvements have been made, and add much to the comfort of the growing congregation.

Trinity, Hightstown, which was recently "tried by fire," there is a marked betterment in the conditions and prospects of the work.

Doane Memorial Chapel and the Chapel of the Good Shepherd, and Amboy, which receive no aid from the convocation, there are congregations and well ordered Sunday-schools. Both are well actuated in the principles and usages of the Church.

A large missionary work in the Bernardsville District has been busily prosecuted during the year, and at one of the stations—Peaseta—a hall has been built and dedicated to the Church's use. The missions of Bernardsville are Union Grove, Gladstone, Far Hills, Somerville, Basking Ridge and Mine Mount; 336 Services have been the large Missionary work carried on by other parishes without aid no report is rendered to the Convocation, but the Dean is glad to state that this work is growing and is full of promise for the future. The list of places served by the Associate Mission during the year follows: Alexandria, Allentown, Allaire, Belmar, Carteret, Clinchfield, Crosswicks, Edinburgh, Flemington, Garwood, Glenmore, Little Ferry Hill, Linden, Matawan, Mercerville, Monmouth Junction, New Hope, Newtown, Perth Amboy, Pittstown, Plainfield, Prospect Plains, Rahway, Rocky Hill, Sand Hills, Sea Girt, Trenton Junction, Wilbur.

Added a list of statistics gathered from the reports of Missionaries:

Services during the year,	1,390
Celebrations of the Holy Communion,	268
Baptisms, adults,	10
Baptisms, infants,	133
Confirmations,	66
Burials,	22
Parochial visits (Associate Mission),	2,716
Aggregate attendance (Associate Mission),	24,796

1 of which is respectfully submitted.

ALFRED B. BAKER,
Rural Dean.

REPORT OF THE NEW JERSEY BRANCH OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

The thirtieth annual meeting of the New Jersey Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions was held in Christ Church, Trenton, Wednesday, May 3d, at 11 o'clock.

There was a celebration of the Holy Communion by the Bishop, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Harding, of St. Paul's Church, Trenton, and the Rev. Mr. Knight, Rector of Christ Church.

The Bishop reported, with much regret, that the Diocese had fallen behind the figures of last year, and urged the women to greater effort.

At 12.30 the business meeting was organized, Mrs. Clark presiding. The roll-call showed it to be one of the largest meetings ever held, thirty-seven parishes were represented by over 200 delegates.

The minutes of the previous annual meeting, also those of the last meeting of the Executive Board, were read and approved.

The Secretary read a memorial of Mrs. Steward, late Vice-President of Freedmen Missions, written by Mrs. Clark at the request of the Executive Board. On the motion of the Bishop it was adopted by the meeting, and the Secretary was requested to have it printed in the Annual Report.

Mrs. Clark spoke of the wish of the New Jersey Branch to establish some suitable memorial of Mrs. Steward, and suggested the furnishing of a room in the new St. Agnes' Hospital, to be built at St. Augustine's School, Raleigh. The Bishop warmly seconded this idea and put the resolution to vote. It was passed unanimously.

On the motion of Miss Townsend it was resolved to amend Article 5 of the Constitution on Duties of Officers so as to read, "There shall be a Vice-President of mission study, whose duty it shall be to promote mission study and take charge of the Missionary Lending Library; also there shall be a special treasurer for the United Offering."

The meeting then adjourned for luncheon.

On re-assembling at 2.15 P. M. the meeting was addressed by the Rev. Mr. Smith, Educational Secretary of the Board of Missions.

The report of the Treasurer was read and approved, followed by the reports of the several vice-presidents, as follows:

Domestic Missions,	$3,976 53
Foreign "	1,020 07
Indian "	812 69
Redmen "	1,120 39
Diocesan "	500 12
Mexican work,	195 00
	$7,624 80

The Junior Auxiliary reported the results of their year's work, $737.77, and the Babies' Branch $129.31, which, added to the above figures, makes a total of $8,491.88. The vice-president of the Babies' Branch called attention to the fact that in the last year the contributions had increased about 25 per cent. over the previous year. Since the branch was founded, even years ago, the "Little Helpers" have contributed over $500 to Missions.

The appropriations from the Ten Cent Assessment Fund were as follows:

General Missions,	$20 00
Foreign Missions,	25 00
Indian Missions,	55 55
Diocesan Missions,	40 00
Mexican work,	40 00
	$180 55

The Systematic Missionary Fund, amounting to $30.00, was as herebefore voted to the Board of Missions.

The Treasurer reported the amount of the New Jersey women's contribution toward the United Offering, presented at the Triennial meeting held at Boston last October, as $2,584.56.

Respectfully submitted,

HATTIE P. TAGGART,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

In accordance with the suggestion of the Right Reverend, the Bishop of the Diocese, a Committee on Sunday Schools was established by the last Convention. This Committee now present the following facts and recommendations:

The Committee organized at Trenton, November 28th, 1904. Several meetings were held during the winter and spring. Correspondence has been opened with similar bodies in other dioceses. Statistics have been collected from our diocesan schools. The aim, organization, text books and methods of Sunday Schools have been studied and discussed.

Letters of enquiry have been sent to the several Sunday Schools of the Diocese; 113 in all. Seventy-one replies only were received. The Committee regret that the failure of so many authorities to co-operate with them renders the returns incomplete. We believe, nevertheless, that the data secured represent average conditions.

In the seventy-one Sunday Schools reporting are 3,488 males and 4,528 females. The males, therefore, constitute 43.51 per cent. and the females, 56.49 per cent. of the total enrollment. For comparison, we note that in the public day schools of this State the corresponding percentages are: males, 50.05, and females, 49.95 respectively. We find, regarding our own Sunday Schools, that in eight boys are more numerous than girls, while in thirty-one the numerical difference between the sexes does not exceed ten. In fifteen parishes the relative proportion of girls to boys is very great. These parishes are almost all in large cities or manufacturing towns, where special Sunday amusements draw boys and young men away. We believe that up to the age of fourteen about as many boys as girls attend Sunday School.

In twenty schools at least 90 per cent. of the children are from Church families. In thirty-one schools the percentage varies from 50 to 90 per cent. In eleven it is less than 50 per cent.

Thirty-seven schools have three or more departments; twenty have two; in six there is no division. Fifteen report that the classes are carefully graded; twenty-seven more make some attempt at grading.

Almost without exception, the sessions of our schools are held noon. They are from one hour to one hour and a half in two schools report weekly or monthly catechizing. It is, however, evidently evident from the answers given, that while there is some desultory rehearsing of the Catechism, there is very little and systematic catechizing on the part of the clergy. We deem every decided defect in the condition of our schools.

The committee find it impossible to tabulate text books and methods. The schools are exactly alike.

Three schools have picnics; sixty-nine distribute presents on Christmas; two do not. In response to the question, "Are presents made to pupils in the name of Santa Claus or Kris Kringle?" Every yes, the others reply with a negative, sometimes quite vigorously. In thirty-three schools rewards or prizes are given for attendance at lessons.

Difficulty in obtaining a sufficient number of qualified teachers is widespread; the reasons given being lack of time, interest and self-denial.

It is found, seldom take much interest in the schools attended by their children.

It is gratifying to note that most of our schools report an increase in membership during the past year. We believe that in many instances there could be a still greater increase if there were adequate facilities to care for more pupils.

Under present conditions efficient Sunday Schools are vitally necessary to preserve the religious life of our American people. In theory, the parent is the religious instructor of the child. In fact, many parents are hostile to religion; others, nominally Christians, give neither care nor thought to the spiritual welfare of their offspring. Few do more than bring their children to baptism, teach them their prayers and send them to Church or Sunday School. Godparents are seldom alive to perform their solemn duties and responsibilities. Family religion has little place in the modern home. Positive religious teaching is prohibited in public schools, on the plea of so-called "non-sectarianism." The Sunday School, with its one hour a week, is the only institution into which children can be freely and, let us thank God, readily assembled to receive what is necessary for their souls' health. Clergy and people are awakened to the danger of these deplorable conditions, and to the need of making our Sunday Schools as effective agents for religious instruction as our public day schools are for imparting secular knowledge. The Sunday School is not to be regarded as an institution apart from the Church, but welcomed as the best means now available for bringing into Christ's fold many who would otherwise, in all probability, remain in heathenism, and to train up baptized children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. In order to emphasize this fact, that the Sunday School is in and of the Church, we recommend that, where practical, the school be brought at each session into the Church building for a Prayer Book service, conducted with music, vestments and all the care and reverence of public worship.

We call attention to the fact that the Church sets forth the curriculum and method for the religious education of the Christian child. In her exhortation to Godparents in the baptismal office, in the title to her Catechism and in the rubrics that follow it, she lays down very definitely, the end to be kept in view and the means to attain it. The end; that the child may be virtuously brought up to lead a godly and a Christian life. The means; to teach him, at the earliest opportunity, what a solemn vow, promise and profession he has made through his sponsors in Holy Baptism; to teach him the Creed, the Lord's Prayer and the Ten Commandments, and all other things which a Christian ought to know and believe to his soul's health; to call upon him to hear sermons and attend the public catechizing in the Church; and finally, when he has been sufficiently instructed in the Church's admirable compendium of Christian doctrine, to bring him for confirmation to the Bishop. We deprecate any wide departure from this curriculum or addition to its provisions. Attendance at Sunday School is voluntary and it is only for a few years we can hold the child. The time spent by the average scholar in the Sunday School seldom exceeds the equivalent of eight weeks' instruction in the public schools—surely a very limited time to acquire all that the Church has here provided.

We recognize the important place and influence of the Holy Scriptures in religious instruction. Our children should be well acquainted with the Holy Gospels and with such parts of the Old and New Testaments as more immediately concern the articles of the Christian faith. We are also firm in our conviction that the Church Catechism is the best statement of Christian doctrine and practice within our reach. Any scheme of Bible teaching unaccompanied with abundant instruction in the Church Catechism is seriously defective. Any catechetical system that fails to furnish the child with a knowledge of the Scriptures is likewise clearly incomplete. We cannot commend too highly the study of the Word of God, but we believe that what may be called the technical study of Holy Scripture—courses on the geography, antiquities and history of Palestine, Apostolic biographies and Church history—is suited rather to special and advanced Bible classes and should not be made a part of the regular Sunday School work. The Bible should be taught where possible by the clergy, or if by laymen, under careful and constant clerical supervision. The Church insists upon a learned ministry that the Word of God may be rightly preached. She cannot careful to safeguard the Bible when she goes forth to teach the ones.

Experience shows the value of storing the mind not only with such of sound words as the Creed and Catechism, but also with and collects for meditation and prayer. We commend such exercises and advise that a regular place be given them at session of the school.

So far as religious education is an intellectual process, it must be in accordance with the principles that govern all acquisition of knowledge. We may therefore profit by the conclusions of modern psychology, as far as they are applicable to the end and subject matter of religious teaching. But your Committee call attention to one vital difference between the secular day school and the religious Sunday school. The latter aims to teach children to believe and do, rather than to investigate and conclude. The appeal is to faith, a moral even more than an intellectual process. With the heart man believeth righteousness. The Christian faith, though reasonable, seeks not to bind itself to human reason, but demands acceptance on the authority of Him who reveals it. The Church, in teaching, must follow the precepts of her divine Master. "He taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes."

The parish priest, by virtue of his office, is the authorized religious teacher of his people. The religious education of the children belongs to him by right and usage, and he cannot delegate it wholly to others, without serious danger, if not disastrous results. We recommend for every school a lay superintendent to take entire charge of order, discipline and management of its affairs. But the parish priest must be the actual and recognized head and moving force.

He should, if possible, be acquainted with every pupil. At the same time, every pupil should know him. By his frequent presence at school sessions, his manifest interest, zeal and patience, he should win the confidence of the children, as one to whom they can safely turn for sympathy and advice in all that concerns their souls. To establish affectionate relationship is worth all the labor it may cost, and counts for much in the spiritual upbuilding of the child.

We urge upon the clergy a fuller return to the Church's ancient method of instruction by catechizing and by sermons carefully prepared with reference to youthful hearers. This, we believe, will go far to overcome the unsatisfactory results too often apparent in our Sunday Schools. The average congregation contains few persons unqualified by zeal, education and ability to become successful scholars. It is useless to complain of our conditions. We must make the best of the limited quantity and quality of our material for teachers.

and not demand too much. But the Rector's official position secures, when he speaks, the respectful attention of the scholars; his theological training has familiarized him with the subject matter of the instructions, and he has, or can make, time to prepare himself to teach effectively. If the Rector's catechizing and address occupy the principal place in the Sunday School session, and if these are carefully prepared and faithfully conducted, the school will be edified even though many of the teachers be inefficient.

In the selection of teachers moral as well as intellectual qualifications ought invariably to be considered. Influence and example count for more than precept. Quality is to be preferred to quantity. A few efficient teachers can handle a school in large classes better than a number of incompetent ones teaching small divisions. Teachers, of course, must be baptized, and should, if possible, be communicants. They should be devout and sufficiently in earnest to be regular and punctual in attendance, and cheerfully obedient to the Rector and Superintendent. Irregular and unpunctual teachers never fail to do more harm than good.

Parental indifference is a great hindrance to the success of our Sunday Schools. Parents frequently neglect to see that their children learn the required lessons, and fail to second the efforts of the teachers to secure respect and reverence. We suggest to our reverend brethren the advantage of setting forth more frequently from the pulpit the duties of parents in the spiritual care of their children and the general subject of religious education. Pastoral visitation will also do much to arouse interest and secure support. Monthly reports to the parents to be signed by them and returned to the teacher are often beneficial.

As this Committee is now constituted, their work ceases with the presentation of this report. We are impressed, however, with the need of a permanent organization or standing commission for Sunday School work. Such a commission could undertake to survey the whole field of Sunday School publications, study the advantages of the various systems, curricula and text books, and act as advisers to Rectors and Superintendents in choosing such helps as will best meet their peculiar needs. They could also, if opportunity offered, arrange for Institutes and Summer Conferences. Finally, they could undertake the establishment of correspondence courses for those who wish to qualify themselves more thoroughly for Sunday School work.

We, therefore, recommend in conclusion, the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That a permanent Commission be established by the Convention to collect information concerning Sunday School work and methods, and to encourage the increase and development of the Sunday s of this Diocese. This Commission shall consist of five clergy-and five laymen, appointed by the Bishop in such manner as to t a continuous body.

The Communicants last reported (111) included eight belonging to Christ Church, Waterford; these eight are now subtracted from this report and included in that of Waterford.

The large increase in Parochial receipts and expenditures is due money collected in the Parish for the new Parish House and necessary repairs to Church and Rectory. Because of this extra expense the Parish felt unable this year to pay its apportionment or give to missions (which will not be the case next year).

This mission was established July 6th, 1904, and I was appointed missionary. The mission comprises Egg Harbor township and Absecon, in Atlantic county, scattered on what is known as the "Shore road," on which is a population of between 5,000 and 6,000. This number is increasing rapidly. We worship in a hired hall, but have acquired lots for building, and hope soon to erect a modest church, for which outside aid will be needed.

We are looking forward to next year as the 200th anniversary of the founding of St. Michael's Church. Plans are in contemplation involving the expenditure of several thousands of dollars, of which a considerable amount is already in hand. The church will be largely renovated, and greatly beautified within and without.

Much interest is manifested on the part of all the people, and the outlook has never been more favorable.

The payment in November last of the mortgage indebtedness of ten thousand dollars upon the church property by the Hon. Henry C. Kelsey, in memory of his wife, Prudence Townsend Kelsey, a former parishioner, has relieved the parish of all financial encumbrance, and thus sets it free to do aggressive work in the future. During the past five years, the period of the present Rector's incumbency, $17,000 of bonded and floating indebtedness have been paid and several thousand dollars spent in betterments. It is proposed during the coming summer to renovate the church thoroughly and to make a number of needed improvements, including the erection of several memorials, the whole to cost about $5,000, which sum is now in hand for this purpose.

CLERICAL REPORTS.

(For Addresses, see Alphabetical Clergy List.)

THE REV. CHAS. A. BREWSTER.—Since my last report I have had sole charge of two churches in southern Florida—St. Barnabas', De Land, and St. Timothy's, Orange City. Both of these churches have a large number of Northern visitors during the winter, and are prospering. My summer vacation was spent at the North, and I was in the chancel nearly every Sunday, either assisting or officiating and preaching.

THE REV. FRANCIS D. CANFIELD.—Since the resignation of J. Alan Montgomery, Rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Germantown, I have made no other engagements; have nothing farther to report.

THE REV. F. B. CHETWOOD—I would respectfully report that since my last annual report I have continued to do parish work in connection with the Church of the Holy Communion, New York, but have not administered any of the offices of public service.

THE REV. F. B. CROZIER.—I beg to report that during the last year I have officiated in Trinity and other parishes in New York as occasion required, and my official acts have been recorded in those parishes.

THE REV. JOHN D. FERGUSON.—During the year that is passed I have served as chaplain of the New Jersey State Soldiers' Home.

THE REV. F. GREAVES.—In making my yearly report I would state that for the last ten months I have been in charge of Holyrood Church, New York City, and have performed the various services connected with that parish, as follows: Public services, 155; Holy Communion (public), 104; Holy Communion (private), 5; Baptisms (infants), 7; marriages, 1; burials, 5. I shall present 12 for confirmation on May 21st, and the parish is prospering in every way.

THE REV. WM. R. HARRIS.—I respectfully report that during the earlier part of the Conventional year I officiated occasionally as opportunity offered. Since October 20th, 1904, by appointment of the Bishop of Albany, I have been in temporary charge of Gloria Dei Mission, Palenville, in that Diocese.

THE REV. C. W. KNAUFF.—For four months during last summer and early autumn I officiated as locum tenens in charge of services at Dingman's Ferry, Pike county, Pennsylvania. There a class of five was prepared and presented for confirmation. Through a portion of Lent, including Holy Week, I performed chaplain's duty at the House of Mercy, Inwood, New York. On various Sundays I officiated at different places. My literary duties have continued.

THE REV. LOUIS K. LEWIS respectfully reports that during the past Diocesan year he has officiated every Sunday, his official acts being duly recorded in the churches where he has been engaged.

THE REV. L. H. LIGHTPIPE.—I beg leave to report that during the year ending May 1st, 1905, I have officiated as assistant to the Rev. F. B. Reazor, the rector of St. Mark's Church, Orange, N. J., and the Rev. W. W. Davis, rector of Chrust Church, East Orange, N. J., and officiated in other parishes and missions as occasion required.

THE REV. HASLETT MCKIM.—There is certainly little variety to be found in my reports. My work at the Deaconess School in New York during the winter, and in the summer my taking part in the services of All Saints' in the Highlands of Navesink, this is all I have to report, except that I married three couples in the Diocese of New York.

THE REV. W. H. NEILSON, D.D.—During the past twelve months, while awaiting assignment by you to regular duty, I have rendered occasional service, as follows: Services conducted, 27; including celebrations of Holy Communion, 15; services in which I have assisted, 35; including celebrations, 14; private celebrations, 2; total services, 62; total celebrations, 31; sermons, 25; addresses, 6; baptisms, 2; marriages, 1; funerals, 2.

THE REV. T. M. REILLY.—The services of St. John's Chapel have been kept up regularly during the year. The congregation have been, for the most part, pupils of St. Agnes' Hall and St. John's Academy.

THE REV. R. E. PENDLETON.—Last May, June and July I spent in Colorado, and while there took temporary charge of St. Thomas' Parish, Alamoda.

THE REV. BENJAMIN R. PHELPS.—Since the sudden and lamented death of my recent rector, the Rev. P. W. Stryker, deprived me of an assistantship, I have not found settled work, though I have embraced the privilege of service on more than half the Sundays since and some week days.

THE REV. ERSKINE M. RODMANN, M.A.—During the past year I have officiated on 160 occasions; during August and September, in St. Thomas' Church, Hanover, N. H., and St. Barnabas' Church, Norwich, Vermont, and on the other occasions in Grace Church, Plainfield, and several other churches, and more recently in St. Luke's Church, Latrobe, Pennsylvania, where I conducted a Five-Days' Mission.

THE REV. S. P. SIMPSON.—My services for the Church during the past year have been devoted to the following parishes; St. John's, Bayonne, N. J.; All Angels', Shinnecock Hills, L. I.; Holy Trinity, Greenport, L. I., and other places where my help was needed. I have baptized 9 infants; buried 2 persons; celebrated the Holy Communion (public) 86 times; celebrated the Holy Communion (private) 3 times. I delivered a course of sermons on Wednesday evenings during Lent in St. Clements' Church, New York.

THE REV. EDWARD H. TRUE.—I would respectfully report that during the past Conventional year I have been continuously engaged in parochial work at Trinity Church, New Rochelle, N. Y., and have also supplied Grace Church, Whitestone, L. I., and for two months was temporary chaplain at St. Luke's Hospital, New York City.
